Within 30 Days

Board To Study Reorganization

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education will call the four local district boards together within 30 days for talks on reorganization.

According to word from the Ohio Department of Education, any survey looking toward reorganization will have to be conducted by the districts themselves.

Thomas J. Quick, assistant superintendent of public instruction, advised James L. McBride, county superintendent, "We do not have the staff or facilities to conduct a full-fledged study." He suggested that boards of education conduct their own studies, using state - furnished guidelines. He promised state assistance in all ways possible.

John A. McKnight, chief of the division of school district reorganization, visited the county May 9 to confer with separate groups on their requests for surveys.

HE MET in the morning with representatives of the Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Fairfield - Waterford districts and in the afternoon with McBride and representatives of the local districts — United, Southern, Beaver and Fairfield - Waterford.

The five - school group had requested a state survey with the idea of merging to create one large district. Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana are emptied village districts, East Palestine is a city district and Fairfield - Waterford is a local or rural district.

The county board has asked for a study of all school districts in the county, but McKnight noted the local boards did not individually request the all-county study. With Fairfield-Waterford a part of the county system, the county board sees the proposed five-district merger a threat to the county system's existence unless the consolidation would join the county system.

McBride pointed out that affiliation with the county system would enable the proposed new district to double or triple the special services above what it could provide on its own.

THE COUNTY board for many months has talked to the Business Up, Agencies Say

Survey Shows Tourists Ignore Travel Curb Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's proposals to curtail travel outside the Western Hemisphere and his urging that Americans see their own country first apparently are not keeping many people home.

A survey of major airlines and travel agencies shows that the sale of tickets has taken up the slack caused by initial announcement of the proposals three months ago and that sales are now as good or better than last year.

Asked how business was, one travel agency executive answered: "I'm looking for help right now, that's how good it is."

The executive, Josephine Arria of American International Travel Service, said, "It's far superior to last year. This being an election year I wouldn't worry too much about the possibility of a travel tax."

A key feature of the proposal is a tax on all travel expenditures above $7 a day outside the Western Hemisphere. The measure passed the House April (Turn to TRAVEL, Page 5)

Bids Open June 11 On Bridge Approach
CHARLESTON — Bids will be opened June 11 for an approach to the new Ohio River bridge at Henderson.

The new bridge, designed with a 900-foot center span, will replace the Point Pleasant bridge which collapsed Dec. 15 with a loss of 46 lives.

Gov. Hulett C. Smith also announced that bids will be let June 3 for the superstructure steel, and on June 5 for two additional abutments and four piers.

First March Set Today By Poor People

Will Go To Grave Of Late President John F. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The poor people of "Resurrection City, U.S.A." plan their first demonstration today—a march to the grave of President John F. Kennedy.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, campaign leader, calling Kennedy a "friend of the poor" who "helped poor people," told a late Monday night rally he also wanted volunteers to fill all vacant seats in congressional hearings.

"Don't worry about dressing up, just go the way you are," the denim-clad Southern Christian Leadership Conference president told a cheering crowd of responsive residents. "We've been here a long time, it's time we do business."

As he stood on a rickety table outside the campsite's still unfinished "city hall," a day's growth of beard showing on his dark brown face.

Abernathy said he may postpone the massive march set for Memorial Day in order to give organizers more time to prepare for it.

The campsite now houses about 2,000 of the 3,000 persons SCLC planned to put in the plywood shanties that stretch down West Potomac Park.

The number of marchers waiting in Washington area churches dwindled considerably Monday as construction of the plywood huts continued at a rapid pace.

About 450 from the Southern caravan were waiting in Northern Virginia, but most of the others who arrived over the weekend have been moved in.

About 700 persons on part of the Western caravan arrived in St. Louis for an overnight stop (Turn to CAMPAIGN, Page 5)

Some Spots In Area May Be Frost-Bitten
The weatherman continues to give the cold shoulder to the tri-state area, with a chance of frost tonight in scattered spots.

The rain may be nearing an end, however, with partial clearing due tonight and fair weather expected Wednesday, although there will be little change in temperature.

There is the possibility of some rain later this afternoon and early in the evening.

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet, faced by an ever-expanding economic paralysis and the threat of parliamentary censure, decided today there should be no punishment for students charged with violence in the street fighting that led into the nation's strike crisis.

Summoned by President Charles de Gaulle, the ministers approved an amnesty bill at a 25-minute meeting. Information Minister Georges Gorse announced the bill, forgiving all charges against students except theft in the period between Feb. 1 and May 15, will be submitted to Parliament Wednesday for ratification.

Premier Georges Pompidou faced the National Assembly debate on a censure motion expected to come to a vote Wednesday night. The governing Gaullist coalition expressed confidence it would survive the vote, but gave no indication what it would do about the workers' revolt for higher pay, shorter hours and job security.

Far from abating, the strike

Strike Keeps Spreading

wave which has idled more than six million workers was still spreading. A Paris newspaper estimated about half of France's 16 million workers would be away from their jobs by nightfall.

Though its own staff showed up, the Paris stock market closed. It was announced the market could not function because of communications difficulties and a lack of orders.

Indirect effects also hit Simca, a French automobile company controlled by the Chrysler Corp., of the United States. Simca closed its plants at Poissy and La Rochelle, employing about 30,000 workers. Management said the decision was due to a shortage of parts from subcontracting firms affected by strikes.

The strikes stopped trains, subways, buses, taxis and garbage collection in Paris and closed coal mines, airports and seaports. Some tourists were stranded. Lines formed at food and tobacco shops, banks and gasoline stations.

Amid a monstrous traffic jam in Paris, made worse by cars that were abandoned after running out of gasoline, few policemen were in sight. Although not on strike, many apparently stayed home.

Facing the gravest threat yet posed to his 10-year-old Fifth Republic, De Gaulle has made no public statement since breaking off a visit to Romania Saturday and returning to the Elysee Palace. He is to address the nation on television Friday night, and there was no indication of what he planned for a situation strongly reminiscent of the turmoil that brought him back to power in 1958. Opposition political leaders conferred with trade union leaders Monday in preparation for their attempt in the National Assembly to oust Premier Georges Pompidou and his Cabinet.

The French Communist party called for an end to the De Gaulle regime and the formation of "a true republican regime opening the way to socialism."

A successful censure motion in Parliament would not oust De Gaulle, whose term runs until 1972, but would be a major setback to his policies.

George Seguy, secretary-general of the big Communist-backed General Confederation of Labor, said in a speech that the striking workers will present their same demands to whatever government is in office until they obtain satisfaction.

The French crisis began with a revolt early this month of university students demanding educational reforms. Despite a promise from Pompidou to meet these demands, the students launched round-the-clock sit-ins at most of France's universities, and last Tuesday night workers spontaneously took up the tactic to push their long-standing demands, beginning with an aircraft factory in Nantes.

Universities remain closed, and high schools in the Paris region joined the strikes Monday, with some teachers remaining on duty only to look after any pupils that showed up.

Eastern France, Alsace and Lorraine were least affected by the strikes so far, but the 25,000 men of the Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux, near the Swiss border, walked out.

Planes Drop Bombs On 2 Haiti Cities

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Unidentified planes dropped four bombs on Port au Prince Monday without causing any damage and also attacked the city of Cap-Haitien with bombs and a landing of armed men, officials said.

Haiti's ambassador in Washington blamed Haitian exiles and Cubans, and the Haitian consul in Miami, Fla., said, "More than 4,000 Haitian workers have been trained in Cuba for guerrilla warfare."

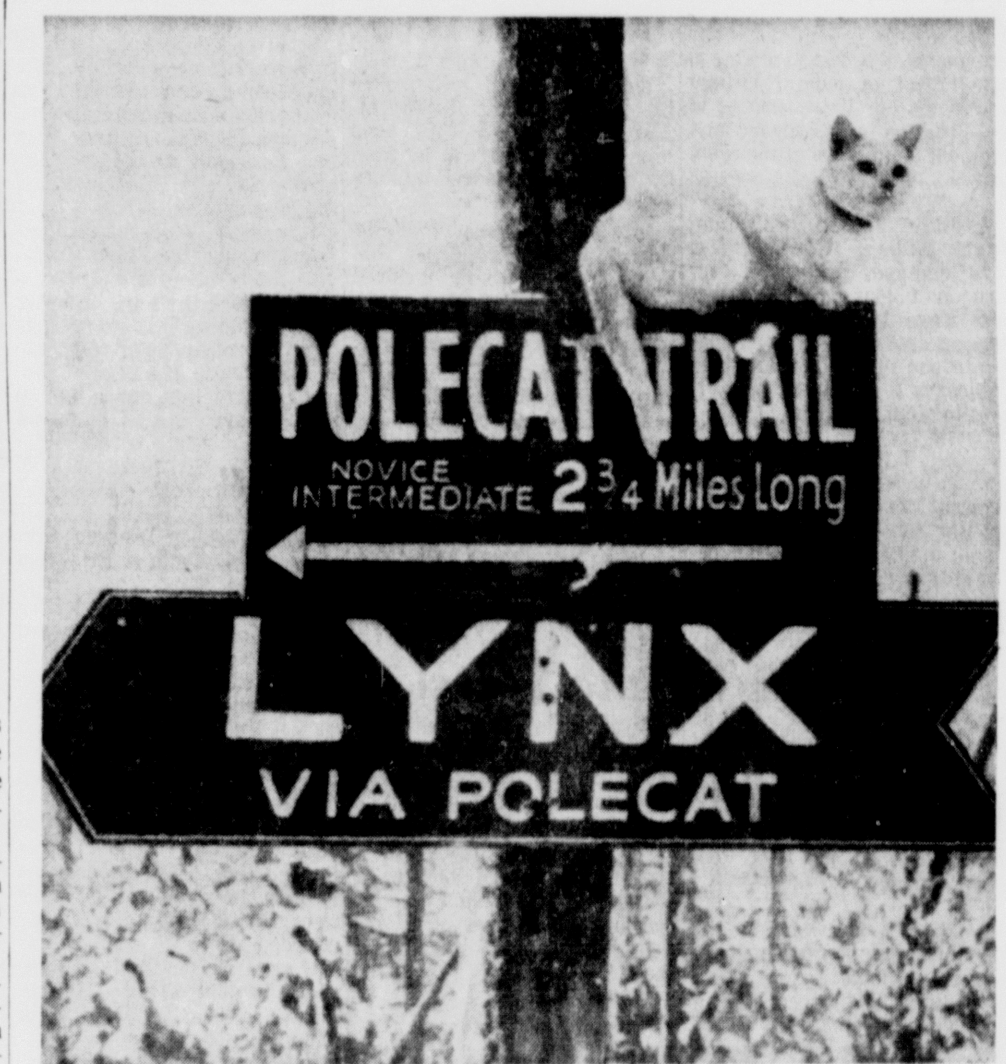

In Port au Prince, one bomb exploded near the palace of President Francois Duvalier. He was not hurt. Three other bombs, including one which hit the military airfield, did not explode, said Aubelin Jolicoeur of the newspaper Le Nouvelliste.

Ambassador Arthur Bonhomme said in Washington: "The planes which landed the armed men at Cap-Haitien are on the ground, and the Haitian army believes it has surrounded the men who landed and has them under attack. We should know pretty soon who are the attackers."

Consul Eugene Maximilien said in Miami that reports late Monday night indicated the "exile men" who landed at Cap-Haitien, 85 miles north of Port au Prince, were under siege but still holding their positions.

"We are prepared to receive any Communist invasion," he said, "because our country is not going to have the same fate as Cuba."

Jolicoeur said a B25 plane painted white, gray and red dropped the bombs on Port au Prince.

All But 'Petty' Criminal Cases

Unprecedented Decision Expands Trial By Juries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defendants in all but "petty" criminal cases are entitled to the chance to be tried by juries, a precedent-shattering Supreme Court has ruled.

"Trial by jury in criminal cases is fundamental to the American scheme of justice," Justice Byron R. White said in the 7-2 decision Monday.

The ruling, one of several expanding the rights of criminal defendants, made the jury trial guarantee of the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution binding on the states.

At the same time, again by a 7-2 vote, the court erased the distinction between criminal contempt and other crimes and put "serious" contempt cases under the jury-trial rule.

The justices were not explicit in drawing a line between what it considered "serious" and what it considered "petty" cases. However, crimes carrying a two-year sentence were put in the "serious" category and those of six-months were viewed as "petty," meaning bench trials are still permissible.

The dissenters, Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart, objected to use of the 14th Amendment's due process clause to promote uniformity among the states.

"Quite without reason," they said, "the court has chosen to impose upon every state one means of trying criminal cases; it is a good means, but it is not the only fair means, and it is not demonstrably better than the alternatives states might devise."

In two other decisions, meanwhile, the court junked long-standing decisions. It said a man cannot be tried fairly if the jury hears a confederate's confession incriminating him. And it said prisoners do not have to complete their sentences before testing additional sentences that await them.

The expansion of rights and the break with the past appeared particularly dramatic

7,000 Insurance Men Strike Metropolitan

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 7,000 agents for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. are on strike in some 120 cities, and their union says contract talks with the company probably won't resume for two weeks.

Agents at Salem were on strike. East Liverpool area agents do not belong to the union, and were on the job today.

The agents struck Monday after rejecting Metropolitan's offer of a three-year contract with a $13-a-week hike in pay and fringe benefits.

President William A. Gillen of the AFL - CIO Insurance Workers International Union said the average pay of $148 weekly for agents is below the average paid by other big insurance firms.

Metropolitan said in New York the strike was having little immediate effect.

3 Men Killed When Planes Ram, Crash

PIQUA, Ohio (AP) — Three men died Monday when two small planes collided over Miami County farmland. Two of the victims were members of a Canadian flying club that had visited the Air Force Museum near Dayton.

Robert C. Penny, 63, and Harold Bursey, 46, both of Brantford, Ont., were in a Cessna that collided with a twin-engine Beechcraft piloted by James Hawley, 38, of Waukegan, Ill. There were no survivors of the crash which occurred southeast of Tipp City.

The planes crashed into fields about a mile apart.

"I looked up and saw a plane falling," said Mrs. Chester Bigos, who lives near the village of Phone-on. "Then a wing split off it. The wing came straight down, but the plane sort of fell off to the north up toward Tipp City."

Mrs. Bigos said she didn't see the second plane falling.

Penny and Bursey were among 22 members of the Brant - Norfolk Aero Club of Brantford that had made the trip to the Air Force Museum. They were on their way home.

Hawley's plane was owned by the Imperial Eastman Corp. of Chicago. Hawley reportedly had flown a businessman to Springfield Monday and was en route to Dayton.

8 Americans Victims In Rocket Raid

Red Infantrymen Repulsed In Attack On Headquarters

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces slammed 500 rounds of mortar and 100-pound rockets into four vital U.S. headquarters in the Hue area today in one of the heaviest coordinated shellings of the war.

Enemy infantrymen also attacked one of the headquarters but were repulsed, the U.S. Command said.

The shellings followed a U.S. air cavalry division headquarters in the northern war zone Sunday. It too was attacked again today, but damage was far lighter.

At least eight U.S. soldiers and 21 enemy were reported killed in the attacks near Hue. Another 51 Americans were wounded. In all four cases, headquarters said, material damage was either negligible or light.

At the same time, Viet Cong troops shelled three provincial capitals and two allied airfields—all but one in the Mekong Delta—inflicting at least 65 allied casualties.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said, "The intensity of the war seems to be increasing."

Asked if he thought this was deliberately timed with the Paris peace talks as part of a Communist command "talk and fight" strategy, Westmoreland said "circumstantial evidence" would indicate this.

Westmoreland's headquarters announced that thousands of American helicopter-borne infantrymen and paratroopers were on the move against North Vietnamese forces menacing Hue and Quang Tri City to the north in two newly announced operations to "seek out and destroy or capture enemy personnel, material and installations."

Both drives were launched last Friday, but the announcement was delayed for security reasons.

Results so far generally have been unspectacular, indicating once again that the enemy is

Meeting Set Thursday On Lisbon Area Span

LISBON — Levi Kimball, deputy director of the Ohio Highway Department Division 11 at New Philadelphia, will meet with Columbiana County commissioners Thursday morning regarding a proposed new bridge over the middle fork of Little Beaver Creek at the southwest edge of Lisbon.

The state will pay 75 per cent of the cost, estimated at $80,000, and will seek the county's cooperation for the balance.

The new span is part of the Route 164 relocation from S. Lincoln Ave. south to eliminate two 90-degree turns. A public hearing on the relocation is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. June 4 at Lisbon Village Hall.

The commissioners will meet at 1:30 p.m. Thursday with Vincent Laneve, County Airport Authority chairman; Tom Mosure of Mosure & Fok, engineer for the proposed airport at Swaney Field in Madison Township; Don Eckert, East Liverpool planning coordinator, and August Fry, representing a gas pipeline company. The discussion will deal with a right-of-way for the pipeline.

In business Monday, the commissioners:

Granted Evelyn Dickey's petition for vacation of a 50-foot-long alley between her properties on Middle St., Homeworth. Returned to the Ohio Board of Liquor Control, without objections, the application of A. Monty Muntean of Lisbon for a nightclub permit for M. & M. lounge under construction on the Lisbon-Salem Rd.

Accepted the resignations of Judy Shingleton of Salem, assistant clerk in the commissioners' office, and Terry Barcus of East Liverpool, a night clerk in Southwest County Court here.

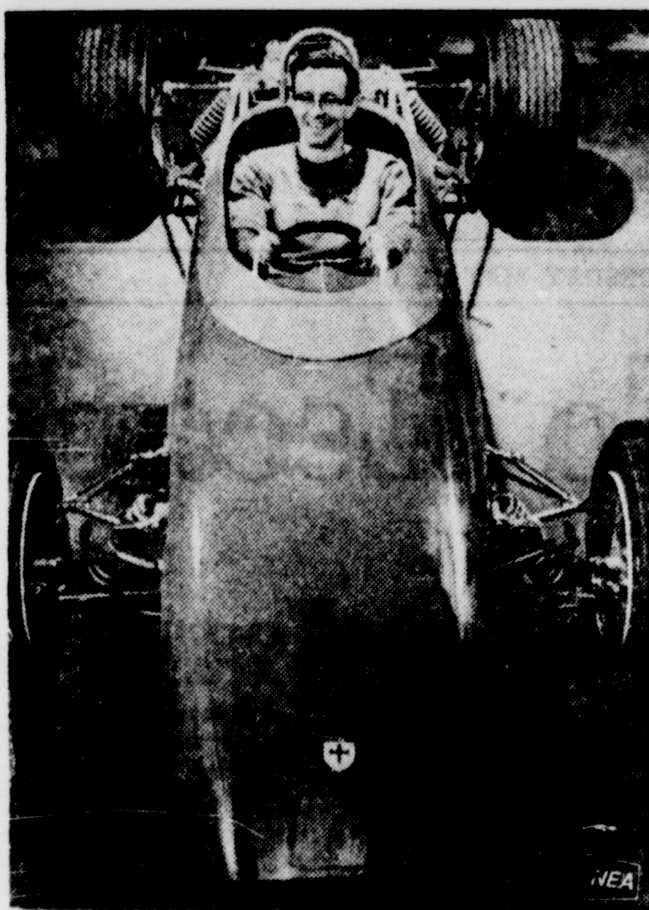

Mrs. Shingleton will begin work June 3 for a Salem industry. A scheduled discussion on the Columbiana annexation question did not materialize yesterday because Lawrence Stacy of Columbiana, counsel for the petitioners, had a case in county Eastern court at East Palestine.

Commissioners said no date has been set for another discussion with Stacy.

The commissioners also adopted a resolution authorizing Dr. Reinhold Rankis of Lisbon, county Home medical director, to supervise and purchase all the drugs for the home effective immediately.

Purchases have been made by Robert Boyce, home superintendent. Future requisitions to the commissioners must carry the signatures of Dr. Rankis and the superintendent.

Commissioners Charles J. Gause and James W. Boyd voted for the change. R. Max Gard opposed it.

7 Arrested, Face Trial

Plot To Kill Indonesian President, Aides Revealed

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian government foiled a plot two months ago to kill President Suharto and 19 of his generals and cabinet ministers as they prayed at a mosque, officials at the presidential palace said Monday.

It was reported seven men had key roles in the abortive assassination attempt. All have been arrested and will be tried by a military court, military sources said.

Officials said the plot was inspired by the Communists but that some of these involved were still at large. Several alleged Communists serving in the army were arrested in Jakarta last week, but it was not known how many in all would be implicated in the plot.

The mass assassination was to have been sprung while Suharto and his top officials knelt at the mosque on the grounds of the president's Merdeka Palace during a Moslem festival March 9, the palace officials said.

Officers said the plotters planned to hurl hand grenades into the small mosque while Suharto and his group were on their knees.

Security agents unearthed the plot several days before, officials said, and arrested an army captain and several other soldiers. Several newsmen were also reportedly picked up. News of the plot was withheld to aid the investigation.

It was the first reported attempt against the life of the 47-year-old former army general since he took the reins of power from President Sukarno early in 1966. Sukarno's ouster came after the collapse of a pro-Communist coup attempt and a nationwide massacre of Communist party members in retaliation for the favored position they held under Sukarno.

3 In Family Injured When Auto Wrecks

Three members of an East End family were injured when the car in which they were riding rammied a tree in Thompson Park Monday at 1:38 p.m.

The mishap occurred when Mrs. Gloria Mae Reynolds, 30, of 1205 Pennsylvania Ave., learning to drive, missed a turn, went down a small embankment about 30 feet and struck the tree headon.

Both Mrs. Reynolds and her husband, Robert Earl Reynolds, 36, were thrown against the windshield. Their son, Edward Reynolds, 3½, also was injured.

Patrolman Orin Smith, Capt. C. E. Tice and Detective William Devon were at the scene. The 1964 station wagon was listed as a total loss.

Mrs. Reynolds told police she was operating on a learner's permit. She said she was driving up the road from Pavilion No. 2 and started to turn west toward the Park Way entrance. She was accelerating to make the grade and as she made the bend, the car went over the hill before she realized what happened.

Mrs. Reynolds was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the right knee and abrasions of the legs. Her husband and the child suffered contusions of the forehead.

William B. Douglas, 74, of Windsor Dr. was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident following a mishap Monday at 9:40 p.m. on Dresden Ave. about 50 feet south of Princeton Ave.

Douglas is accused of hitting the rear of a parked car owned by James E. Thorne of 1514 St. Clair Ave. The Thorne car was pushed onto the sidewalk about 20 feet by the impact.

Witnesses told police they saw the other car leave and head north on St. Clair. Police checked the car through a description and when they went to the Douglas home they found his 1963 sedan damaged on the right front. He said he was crowded over by another car and gave chase. He then went home, he told officers. He will receive a hearing May 29 in Municipal Court.

Patrolmen W. F. Copestick and J. W. Woods investigated.

Police Investigate Beating Of Boy Here

Police are investigating a report by a 13-year-old boy that he was beaten by two other youths along Dresden Ave. near 9th St. Monday evening.

A nurse at City Hospital notified police Steve Sullivan, son of Raymond Sullivan of 921 May St., was being treated for injuries he said he received in the fracas.

Sullivan told officers he was on his way to a store on Dresden when the other two started a fight. One was about 13 and the other 18 or 19, he said.

He said he doesn't know if the older youth struck him, but he remembers hearing him tell the younger boy to keep on hitting.

The youth suffered a laceration of the right ear lobe and contusions below the left eye.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says no effort is being made to shift negotiations on release of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo and its crew from Panmunjom to Paris.

"No attempt is being made along that line and the negotiations are being conducted in Korea," department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Monday.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had said the best way to get the ship and crew back from North Korea may be to make the issue "part and parcel" of current peace talks between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives in Paris.

Humphrey said at the same time North Korea may release the crew, and possibly the vessel as well.

McCloskey noted Humphrey emphasized the word "may" and said: "We share this hope but there are no recent developments we can report on."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official figures indicate government stimulation of the nation's economy continued at a high rate the first quarter of this year, leveling off below last year's high.

The figures show the deficit in the national income accounts budget remained at $10.7 billion. The leveling off followed two straight quarters of decline after the $14.7 billion deficit—the highest since World War II—recurred for the second quarter of last year.

The national income accounts budget figures was released Monday in an "Economic Indicators" booklet prepared by the Council of Economic Advisors for the House-Senate Economic Committee.

The figure is considered by economists the best yardstick of the impact of federal income and outgo on the economy. A deficit in the budget means government stimulation of the economy.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce William H. Chartner says demands by some construction unions for 20 to 40 percent wage hikes—even though they surely won't be won—constitute one of the most serious challenges to administration efforts to stem inflation.

A new program under which volunteer lawyers will aid the poor in urban areas was announced Monday by an American Bar Association committee. It said a $950,000 Ford Foundation grant will provide paid staff assistants to organize the program.

"We are gonna raise hell. We're not going to have any violence whatever because this is what the forces of evil want us to do. . . I don't mean we're going to burn the city down. . . We're just going to get it right." —The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the Poor Peoples Campaign.

South Side Sets Budget Of $808,080

A budget of $808,080 for 1968-69 was adopted by the South Side Beaver Jointure Board of Directors Monday night.

The budget is $84,508 higher than the $723,572 current figure to provide for possible teacher salary increases, it was explained.

Representatives in each of the six districts in the jointure — Frankfort Springs, Georgetown, Greene Township, Hanover Township, Hookstown and Shippingport — will meet to draw up budgets based on the jointure budget.

The final budget meeting will be held June 24.

The current minimum teacher salary is $5,200. The increase from last year's budget will permit boosts in instruction, administration, operations and maintenance expenses.

The board accepted resignations from Mrs. Ethel Pence, elementary instructor; Mrs. Clementine M. Andrews, school board secretary, and James B. Monar, high school English teacher. Mrs. Pence will retire. Mrs. Andrews is now employed at the Beaver Campus at Pennsylvania State University.

Contracts were awarded to the Allied Oil Co. of Cleveland for supplying 110,000 gallons of oil for heating at 10.96 cents a gallon; Kurtz Brothers of Clearfield, $3,904 for arts supplies and audio-visual materials and $739 for janitor supplies, and the Brodhead-Garrett Co. of Cleveland, $465 for shop supplies and equipment.

A contract for replacing wooden high school doors with metal ones was awarded to the James R. Pitts Co. of Pittsburgh at $2,091.

A regular meeting will be held June 3.

Tuberculosis Clinic Gives Monthly Report

LISBON—The monthly report of the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Clinic presented Monday to the board of trustees showed there were no new cases of TB and no deaths reported in April.

The clinic made 84 chest X-rays and gave 161 Mantoux tuberculin tests.

Nurses made 110 visits and there were six consultations with Dr. M. K. Singer, medical director.

The clinic has 138 patients on medication at home. Fifty-five of these are in the General Health District, 39 in East Liverpool, 25 in Salem, 11 in Wells-ville and 8 in East Palestine.

How many years younger do you think your face should look to make you really happy?

When a woman uses 2nd Debut to make her face look too young, it would be said that she used it not too wisely. And if she uses it to shed only one or two birthdays, this too would be a waste of her time, energy and money. Any woman about to depart on a course of facial rehabilitation with 2nd Debut should first decide just how youthful her face should be made to look to best serve her present purposes. Once this decision is made, there remains little to do beyond applying 2nd Debut nightly according to directions and discontinuing its use when the desired state of more youthful looking linelessness is reached.

WHAT 2nd DEBUT IS:

2nd Debut is a radical departure from the oily creams and lotions that have been the basis of skin care during the past century. It is a scientific development based in the demonstrable fact that skin's appearance ages through dryness, and that the oiliest skin can also be the driest. 2nd Debut demonstrates to women of all ages that dryness can be relieved continuously and varying degrees of youthful appearance re-established by maintaining the water balance of skin at normally required levels. 2nd Debut, therefore, contains neither oil nor grease. Instead, it is an aqueous emulsion of the ingredient known to be the one employed by nature to keep human skin adequately moist to prevent dryness and premature aging.

As contained in the emulsion 2nd Debut, this ingredient (known as CEF) need only to be applied to the surface of facial skin. The water-moisture level of the skin automatically rises. Progressively, the skin's surface appears smoother and more youthful as lines become less evident and some completely disappear. Those around the eyes, the nose and mouth are usually among those that respond earliest to regular nightly applications of 2nd Debut. The tone of the entire face and neck is at once lifted and given the appearance of fresher form as you near the end of your first 2nd Debut course in youth renewal. From that point on, occasional applications of 2nd Debut with its rich CEF 600 content help facial freshness to remain and facial smoothness to continue to replace those insidious premature age lines that plagued you before your friendship with 2nd Debut began. And, at some later indefinite time, you may begin another course of nightly 2nd Debut applications, with assurance it will be fully as effective as the routine just completed.

The CEF principle of skin moisturizing and maintaining water availability to otherwise thirsting skin is the subject of numerous technical papers that have been read before scientific bodies both here and abroad. In fact, the discovery of the ingredient we call CEF is regarded as being of most unusual importance to the advanced study of normal human skin.

2nd Debut is made in two potencies. The first contains CEF 600 and is designed for the woman with early wrinkles; that is, the younger woman who has started to line before her time. Its price is $3 for the four ounce size.

The four ounce potency CEF 1200 was formulated for the face over forty; or for the impatient lady who wants visible results without delay — or for you if your facial lines are deep. It smooths age lines faster. In only a few days you see a marked change. The four ounce bottle is but $5.

Now, to prepare your skin to receive these treatments, 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser was developed. Its results are dynamic. Its application is different, for it is to be applied in a thin layer over your face and throat. Then rinse off with cool water. Now your skin is clear, and clean. Really clean! Price is $3 for two ounces. Four ounce size, $5.

For a perfect complexion instantly, matte finish 2nd Debut Liquid Makeup with CEF 600. Covers blemishes and imperfections so completely and with such a natural look no one suspects it of being make-up. Helps overcome skin dryness, too. Explanation Of Crisis In France

By DAVID MASON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Here in question and answer form is an explanation of the French student-worker crisis, a period of turmoil Parisians are calling "The Days in May."

Q. When and how did it all start?
A. Student agitation on a small scale has been common in France since World War II. In recent years complaints have centered on jammed lecture rooms and lack of teachers. Last November, sociology students in the suburban Nanterre branch of the University of Paris struck for 10 days; protesting the slowness of promised reforms in teaching. They also complained that they were not being prepared for careers in the modern world and called for teacher-student committees to modernize education. Nanterre classes were suspended for two days in March, and on May 2 they were suspended again, the dean complaining that "certain groups of students were trying to create a climate of insecurity." On May 3, rioting broke out in Paris' Latin Quarter, with students taking part from Nanterre and the Sorbonne, the main university branch on the Left Bank. Disturbances continued almost every night, and on May 5 five rioters were jailed. This fired up the students, and police swarmed into the Latin Quarter, throwing tear gas and swinging their clubs. The Sorbonne was closed.
Q. What did the students do then?
A. Their long-range demands for educational reform were replaced by these immediate ones: Reopening of classes at Nanterre and the Sorbonne, withdrawal of police from the Latin Quarter, and freeing of jailed students and lifting of disciplinary action against others.

Q. At what point did things become really serious?
A. The night of May 10-11. Students built barricades in the streets, burned cars and tossed Molotov cocktails. The police retaliated with tear gas and concussion grenades. The toll: 367 persons injured, 468 arrests.
Q. What happened next?
A. Premier Georges Pompidou returned from a visit to Afghanistan May 11, promised to reopen the Sorbonne May 13, said the jailed students would be freed and promised renovation of the university system. He also called off the police.
Q. Was this enough to calm the students?
A. It made them more militant than ever, and the major unions called a one-day general strike for May 13 to protest police action against the strikers. During the strike several hundred thousand students and workers marched through the heart of Paris on one of the biggest parades in memory. The students and unions formed an uneasy alliance. Students occupied the Sorbonne and one of the state theaters, the Odéon, and set up a round-the-clock debating forum. The red flag of communism and the black banner of anarchy were flown.
Q. What was the government's response?
A. President Charles de

Gaulle was on an official visit to Romania. Premier Pompidou told the National Assembly "our civilization... is at stake." He issued a communique saying the turbulent students would not "plunge the country into disorder." Then he went on the radio and television and promised that "all the legitimate demands" of the students would be met. He also hinted at steps to restore order, but none was taken.
Q. What were the unions and workers doing?
A. A grassroots strike movement began, with leaders saying that they had learned from the student disorders that only sharp, unlimited action would bring satisfaction for their demands for higher pay and other benefits. Union leaders began to cool toward the students since they had no control over them. The students continued to woo the workers and passed the hat for the strikers. The character of the "Days in May" now changed. The student turmoil stabilized, with sit-ins at most universities, nonstop debating in the Odéon and refusal to take examinations. But the labor strikes spread: about 6 million of France's 16 million were out Monday, and the strike wave was still spreading.
Q. What do the workers want?
A. What they have been wanting for years—more money, shorter working hours, job security.
Q. Haven't their demands been met?
A. The government, which runs such major sectors of French industry such as rail and air transport, communications and the like, has been granting regular raises of a few per cent a year. Private industry has also come through. But the workers have never been satisfied and have frequently struck for one or two days to push their demands. The government has been able until now to keep the lid on. Recently, however, unemployment began to increase, reaching upwards of half a million. Job security became a big issue. Adaptation to the competition created by the Common Market means the end of marginal industries and more mechanized factories, with fewer workers.

Q. What steps are the politicians taking?
A. The Leftist Federation led by Francois Mitterrand and the Communist party small bloc. They introduced a censure motion in the National Assembly, and the vote will come Wednesday night or early Thursday. Small cracks are appearing in the Gaullist bloc, which is two seats short of a majority in Parliament but has squeaked through on previous censure votes because Centrists went along with the government. This time it may be different.
Q. Is De Gaulle himself in danger?
A. If the censure motion passes, only Pompidou and his cabinet will be out. De Gaulle is serving a seven-year term, which ends in 1972.
Q. What will De Gaulle do if Pompidou's government is thrown out?
A. He will address the nation on Friday and until then it's anyone's guess.

Cycle Rules Set At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council approved on final reading Monday night regulations governing motorcycles and bicycles within the city.
The new regulations require helmets for motorcyclists and ban high handlebars for bicycles as a hazard to the riders.
Council authorized an additional $3,000 for continuing the widening of Market St., approved a request from Oliver Hensley of Lisbon to conduct a survey of interest in cable television service and designated the Union Commercial & Savings Bank and the First National Bank as depositories for city funds at 1 per cent.
No action was taken on a proposed fee system for ambulance service provided by volunteer firemen outside the city limits. A statement may be made later this week.
Council will file a protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission concerning a Penn Central proposal to discontinue a regular stop of Train 53, the only westbound passenger train which halts at East Palestine.

4 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press
A bicyclist, a migrant farm worker, and two young persons killed in a single car accident are among Ohio's latest traffic fatalities.
The dead: David Fields, 20, Pomeroy, Virginia Pills, Middleport. Antonio Hernandez, 22, near Leipsic. Richard Carpenter, 16, Toledo. Fields and Virginia Pills were killed Monday when their car hit a cement wall in Middleport.
Hernandez was killed when a car he was driving went off a Putnam County road three miles east of Leipsic.
Carpenter was killed when his bicycle was hit by an automobile on a Toled street.

Bad Weather Delays Flight Record Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Adverse weather reports prompted Columbus aviatrix Jerrie Mock to postpone until Wednesday her plans to try for a non-stop flight record for women.
Mrs. Mock, 42, the first woman to fly solo around the world, had planned to leave today on a 4,500-mile flight to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., San Juan, Puerto Rico, Miami, St. Louis and back to Columbus.
She hopes to make the trip in about 35 hours, set two closed-course, nonstop record for women and establish six speed records. She said the proposed route would be the longest non-stop, nonrefueling flight ever made by a woman.

2 Plead Innocent In Bank Charges

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Two Buffalo men have pleaded innocent in federal court to charges of conspiracy to rob a West Virginia bank in 1963.
The defendants, Frederico G. Randaccio, 60, and Plasquale A. Ntarelli, 57, were returned here from federal penitentiaries where they are serving 20-year sentences after being convicted last Nov. 21 of conspiring to commit two major robberies in California.
The arraignment of a third man, Nicholas Rizzo, 49, also of Buffalo, was postponed until Monday.
The indictment against the three charged they plotted to rob a bank messenger of the Weirton Savings and Loan Co. The conspiracy was planned through June, July and August 1963, the indictment charged.

Fire Hits Ship, Most Of Crew, Passengers Flee

LONDON (AP) — Fire broke out aboard the 5,000-ton Norwegian cruise ship Blenheim today, forcing her 98 passengers and most of her crew of 80 to abandon ship in the middle of the North Sea. One passenger was reported injured.
A skeleton crew stayed aboard to fight the fire, and tugs which arrived on the scene joined in the effort.
Two Danish fishing trawlers relieved the Blenheim's packed lifeboats of about 65 of the passengers and took them to the Danish port of Esbjerg.
The sea was calm as a fleet of rescue ships, planes and helicopters converged on the scene 170 miles west of the Danish harbor of Tyboron. The armada was hurriedly summoned from Britain, Scandinavia and the Netherlands.

2 Palestine Men Hurt In Mishap

Two East Palestine men were injured in a one-car mishap in Carroll County near the Columbiana County line Monday at 5:30 p.m.
"Fairly good" at Salem City Hospital is Thomas J. Read, 81, of West St., a fracture of the left shoulder.
Treated was Raymond M. Lane, 68, of 118 Leak St., operator of the car, a contusion of the right leg and left shoulder injury.
Officers of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, who investigated, said the sedan, east-bound on County Rd. 18 about four miles east of Route 9, slid on the wet pavement, went off the north side of the road and crashed into a fence post and tree.
The car was damaged heavily, officers added.

Mayor Requests Funds For Juvenile Division

City Council's finance committee was asked Monday night to study a request from Mayor George E. Willshaw for funds to take advantage of a state grant for the establishment of a police juvenile division.
The city has been notified by the Ohio Youth Commission that it is the first, and one of only 20 in the state, to be selected for a $3,000 grant to help pay for a full-time officer.
The mayor said the money is needed for the balance of the year, beginning July 1. Another $1,200 would be needed in January. He suggested the funds be taken from the income tax revenue.
Police Chief Americo J. Radetschi was informed of the grant in a letter from Daniel W. Johnson, director of the Youth Commission.

Two Military Fugitives Given Asylum In Church

BOSTON (AP) — Two men who say they are military fugitives and expect to be arrested have been granted asylum in Arlington Street Church and fellow residents vow they will protect them from police.
Victor G. Jokel, executive director of the Unitarian-Universalist church across from the Public Garden, told a news conference Monday the men will be given sanctuary as long as they need it.
Ira Arlook, a spokesman for New England Resistance, a group opposing the draft and the Vietnam war, said its members would attempt to obstruct law enforcement officers if they went to the church.
The two men identified themselves at the news conference at the church as Robert Talmanson of Dennis on Cape Cod. Talmanson said he was convicted a year ago of failing to report for induction and his appeal from a three-year prison sentence was denied last week by the U.S. Supreme Court.
Chase said he served in the Army in Vietnam but is refusing additional military service and is absent without leave from Ft. Lewis, Washington.
Col. Paul Feeney, deputy director of the Massachusetts Se-

The mayor called the need for a juvenile officer in the community imperative. Currently, juvenile offenders are summoned to City Hall to meet with a probation officer from Lisbon. At times the officer is busy elsewhere and the youths and their parents must wait, causing parents loss of work and resulting in unnecessary delay for all concerned.
The full-time officer also could help curb juvenile vandalism, he said.
The mayor presented Council with a letter from Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon endorsing and stressing the need for the program. The mayor also presented photographs showing youths and adults lined up in the City Hall corridor awaiting hearings at various times.

A Walk In The Rain

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey took a walk in the rain Thursday to visit Resurrection City and came back with an idea.

Mr. Humphrey, convinced that people have a right to petition for their grievances, suggested "an open town meeting" be held in the nation's capital with members of Congress sitting on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial, as in a joint session, to hear all citizens' grievances.

The idea is not novel but its application at the national level certainly is. It has a certain democratic quality which makes it appealing.

PERHAPS it is the directness of the contact between the people and their representatives, with all of the impersonal steps in between them having been eliminated.

If properly conducted, the town meeting would certainly grant the petitioners something they have claimed not to have had—namely the ear of Congress.

They obviously feel that Congress is their court of last resort, short of militant civil disobedience and violence.

If they are given their hearing in such a national town meeting and fail to win their case, then the test of their Americanism and belief in democracy comes into test.

If they insist in demanding what they term their "rights" in the face of rejection, in part or completely, by their elected representatives, then they are guilty of undemocratic action in trying to make the views of a minority prevail over those held by representatives of a majority.

IF, BY THE FORCE of their arguments and the message conveyed by their physical presence in Washington, they convince the legislators to enact laws meeting their petitions, then the town meeting will have been instrumental in re-establishing grass-roots democracy.

There are some hazards to be considered in contemplating a town meeting of this scope and under these circumstances. But something must be done and this is a fresh approach.

Vice President Humphrey must be given credit for wrestling with a difficult problem and trying to find a solution.

He's thinking.

W.Va. Growth

Within eight years, West Virginians should be enjoying significant economic advances, according to some statistical predictions from Morgantown.

Dr. William Miernyk, director of the West Virginia University regional research institute, and Prof. Kenneth Shellhammer foresee some real growth — IF the current national economic pace continues.

What's up for the Mountaineer State? A 12 per cent increase in the population, a 24 per cent increase in the per capita income and a 29 per cent decline in unemployment.

We are uncertain whether this is not just a proportional development related to the other 49 states, in which case West Virginia's ranking would be little improved. But in any event, the changes are not something which time alone will bring; West Virginians, just as Ohioans and Pennsylvanians, are going to have to plan and work for progress.

New War Scare In Korea

There seems to be a new war scare building. U.S. Intelligence indicates North Korea is infiltrating guerrillas and terrorists into South Korea in large numbers, much like North Vietnam originally infiltrated South Vietnam.

Military statistics indicate North Korea has a decided edge over South Korea. It is well supplied with Russian tanks, armored vehicles and heavy artillery and with Chinese automatic rifles and other weapons. It has more than 500 MIG fighters plus 50 jet bombers.

South Korea has a poor navy, only a few tanks and an out-of-date air force. It does have an army of 500,000 men.

President Johnson has promised South Korea $100 million in military aid but Congress has yet to approve it.

North Korea has promised to "liberate" South Korea by 1971. It would seem that its tactics will be to infiltrate enough highly trained personnel to make it look like an uprising from within, so it can be called a "civil war."

Then North Korea could come to their aid in the same fashion that North Vietnam is "assisting" the Viet Cong.

Where Do You Draw The Line?

An unresolved question — Where to draw the boundary between air space and outer space — is one of the reasons a workable international space law has not yet been achieved.

Another factor causing delay in arriving at international agreement in the space realm is a basic disagreement as to what is and what is not a peaceful use of reconnaissance satellites.

THE SOVIETS traditionally have charged that reconnaissance is a crime of aggression. The United States, on the other hand, has consistently contended that it is purely a defensive operation necessary to insure the world against surprise attack.

The U.S. position has been that surveillance is not an attack and not aggression because the satellites do not have clandestine character which is one of the ingredients of espionage.

It is hard to see any logic in the Russian position for there is no firing weaponry, no economic blockade and no threat imposed by a reconnaissance satellite orbiting the world. It is just looking.

But to prevent arguments over the peaceful use of space, an Ohio State University space law specialist, Alfred M. Kuhfeld, has proposed an international "spy-in-the-sky" agency to replace U.S. and Soviet surveillance satellites.

Mr. Kuhfeld says, "A latent disagreement as to whether surveillance by satellite is a peaceful or a nonpeaceful use of outer space should not be permitted to short-circuit the great progress made thus far in reaching international agreement in so many areas in the space realm."

COOPERATION, especially between the U.S. and Russia, he believes is the key to developing a workable space law. And he feels that ultimately, due to the impetus furnished by sci-

The Fall Of Micronesia

Micronesia has long needed some method of making money. Last week it got the break awaited so patiently — an airline started to serve the area.

Where and what is Micronesia? That is the name given 2,100 Pacific islands and atolls including the Marshall, Mariana and Caroline islands.

Micronesia is administered by the U.S. Department of Interior under a United Nations trusteeship. The U.S. has rejected programs calling for more funds for capital improvements.

Hospitals, transportation facilities and schools are considered substandard in the islands. American Peace Corps workers are living with Micronesians and teaching English.

The new air link is expected to open up the islands as a tourist attraction similar to Hawaii. As soon as tourists catch on to the idea of visiting another Pacific paradise, the development boom will be on in full force.

In rapid order motel chains, luxury hotels and nightclubs will dot the most beautiful and popular islands. Souvenir shops selling genuine native-made shell jewelry and handwoven baskets will sprout like weeds.

Small restaurants, large restaurants and tawdry saloons will spring up overnight. Tourists with their loud shirts, big cigars and 35mm cameras will take over the islands without firing a shot.

Someday Micronesians will tell their grandchildren how the islands were before progress washed over them and introduced them to the 20th century.

The favorite pastime in that future age of development will be longing for the good old days.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Primarily on a business trip through 15 counties in Ohio, I took time out recently to visit the Ohio Hills Indian Museum in Wellsville. My curiosity was amply rewarded by the owner of the museum, Mr. Harry R. Cline, who with great enthusiasm explained his archaeological work of many years. Aside from the usual artifacts, like knives and stone tools, he was very proud of his skeleton finds and the re-creation of an Indian cave.

He also invited me to attend a meeting of The Aborigines Explorers' Club of Columbiana County which met at the home of Mr. John F. Mathias, president, in East Liverpool.

It is not an overstatement to say, that, on my travels and lectures, I have seldom met a more serious, more interested and purposefully devoted group of men studying the mysteries of how and when man first reached North America.

Webster defines experience as "knowledge derived from one's own action, practice, perception, enjoyment or suffering; every form of knowledge due to one's immediate observation." And he goes on to define "history is the systematic record of past events, especially of those concerning the life of a nation and in which man has taken part."

These definitions are important and germane to the reader of this letter, because it puts into perspective what follows and explains the reason for writing this letter to the editor:

Because of the harmony, seriousness and objectivity of these men and the tremendous contribution they are making to the study of Ohio Indian heritage, I would like to review the work of these dedicated men and their specific assignments.

Mr. Mathias, president, studies the pitted stone family, weights and hammerstones; Mr. Keith McClung from Chester, W. Va., treasurer, is a most competent high school teacher of social studies involved with the geological classification of soils and its association to archaeology and historical Indian tribes in the tri-state area; Mr. Richard Thompson, East Liverpool, secretary, studies cultural anthropology, the behavior of prehistoric man, their homes, family, food and art.

Mr. Harold Dawson, East Liverpool, is in charge of site layout, archaeological field methods and photography; Mr. Charles Henderson, Alliance, is also involved with site layout and field methods but includes surveying techniques into his field of competence, as they apply to archaeology; Mr. Robert Jackman, East Liverpool, is interested in stone and flint tool typology and takes care of the classification to these artifacts into time periods and their methods of manufacture; Mr. James Monte, Wellsville, studies and reports on ceremonials and ornamental objects of bone, stone and slate; Mr. Joseph Nolan, East Palestine, studies axes, celts, chopping tools, mortars and pestles.

Mr. William Smith, East Liverpool, is involved with all ceramic materials, their classification and comparative analysis of surrounding areas; Mr. Harry Littlecott, Toronto, does projectile typology and classifies these artifacts on the basis of their form and method of manufacture and their culture time period.

This museum and the members of the organization are of equal interest to me because of my own sociological and cultural experience in living with the Mandan Indians of North Dakota on their reservation for more than a year. My good friend, the late Sen. Bill Langer of North Dakota, had a hand in making this experience possible. It is little wonder then, that, because of our common interests we all had an unforgettable evening.

The point I should like to make is, that, it happens only too often that people in a certain location and area take something like this Ohio Hills Museum and the quiet work of these dedicated local explorers for granted. Yet, here is something constructive and productive going on right in your own front yard and in direct line with other important findings recently unearthed in the southeastern section of the State of Washington by a team of scientists, anthropologists and zoologists.

These pieces of bone are believed to be the oldest remains of man yet found in the Western Hemisphere — belonging to a young pre-Indian nomad, designated as the Marmes man (named after Mr. Marmes, the owner of the ranch where the bones were found), existing between 11,500 and 13,000 years ago. This exciting discovery was made in undisturbed sediments between 13 feet of rockfall.

It was pointed out that this find was made at the bottom of a cliff in a deep canyon 1.5 miles from the confluence of the Palouse and Snake rivers, in an area soon to be flooded by the Lower Monumental Reservoir.

I cannot tell you how grateful I am for having had the intuition and opportunity to "discover" your area, visit the Ohio Hills Indian Museum and to have met and spent an exciting evening with the fine explorers of your area.

Finally, as president of the Chester Historical Society, Chester, Vermont, let me remind you never to forget that the past is merely the Prologue for a better understanding of ourselves and others.

Wallace Outlook

I have just completed an automobile trip through several Southern states with stopovers in North and South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas where I discussed the political situation with editors, businessmen and Republican political leaders.

It was quite natural that the major subject of interest was the possible impact upon the new Republican party in those states of the presidential candidacy of George Wallace in 1968.

When I made this trip a year ago and talked with many of the same people, it was generally believed that Wallace, if he decided to be a candidate in 1968, would carry all of the states in that area that Barry Goldwater won in 1964. It seemed then that while a Republican candidate would lose those states, the loss would be more than compensated for by the votes Wallace would take from Lyndon Johnson in the industrial states in the rest of the country.

SINCE THAT TIME, especially in the last three months, the political situation in the country has greatly changed. That has made it necessary to reappraise the Wallace potential in the South especially and in the nation as a whole. I had sensed some of the nature of that reappraisal at home in New York and had concluded before I left that the Wallace threat to the major parties was less than had been anticipated earlier.

This time I was told by responsible Republican leaders in South Carolina that while Wallace has been seeking support there, Republican prospects have never been so bright. The GOP is planning to run candidates in all of the congressional districts and so far as possible for municipal and county offices.

Only recently a Republican mayor and city council were elected in Anderson, a former Democratic stronghold. The conversion of Sen. Strom Thurmond and Rep. Albert Watson to the Republican party has been a big help?

Alabama is probably safe for Wallace, but editors and political leaders there have the distinct impression that Wallace's potential elsewhere has slipped. The death of Mrs. Lurleen Wallace has brought Albert Brewer into the governor's office. He has always been a Wallace man but is expected to lend more and more to be his own boss. Thus, the Wallace power base may be weakened.

In Louisiana one must distinguish between the northeast around Shreveport and the south which includes New Orleans. The northeast is conservative and leaning toward the GOP. The south is unpredictable and in places corrupt.

In Texas there is, as always, a struggle between the long-established conservative Democratic party and the Yarbrough liberals. Wallace recently visited east Texas and received a fair welcome. But neither of the Democratic factions will attach themselves to his cause.

To be sure, a great deal will depend upon the identity of the Democratic candidate selected in Chicago. If Robert Kennedy should be the nominee, the entire Southeast will reject him and probably divide its electoral votes between Richard Nixon and Wallace. If Humphrey should be nominated, Wallace would have some appeal but not so much, Eugene McCarthy is not considered likely to be the nominee.

OVER-ALL, IT IS my conclusion that from here on Wallace will be less and less a threat to the major candidates. He is not getting the money he expected would flow in after his announcement. The big money nationally will go to the candidate who, if elected, would do most for the donors. His speech — and it is the same harangue with local variations — is shopworn.

If Nixon and Humphrey — or some dark horse selected by Johnson if after a ballot or two Humphrey falters — are nominated, the grave crises facing the nation will induce among voters a mood of serious concern about the future.

In that mood voters are not likely to grant themselves the luxury of a protest vote for Wallace who cannot be elected. They may well be convinced that if Wallace gets enough electoral votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives, another crisis will be faced, for the nation would be substantially leaderless until the new Congress meets in January.

People will more likely vote for a candidate who offers some assurance of stability and order.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Throngs attended cornerstone ceremonies dedicating the Fairview and No. 16 school buildings.

Roberta Henstock was elected president of the Epworth League of the Wellsville First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Dollena Chandler of East Liverpool participated in the May festival at Geneva College.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — James Bolles was named head of the McKinley Home and School Association.

Miss Gretchen Arner of W. 5th St., a music major at Marion College, presented a recital at the school.

Lem Dailey, a pumper for 17 years, was appointed superintendent of the Chester water works.

TEN YEARS AGO — Pamela Brenneman was elected president of the Sunny Circle 4-H Club and Garnetta Plunkett vice president.

Mrs. Nelle Platt was named to fill a vacancy on the scholarship fund committee of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club.

picking the time and place to fight and resorting more and more to shelling. These are far less costly to the enemy in casualties, but often inflict serious damage to U.S. installations and aircraft.

The heaviest shelling today was on Camp Eagle, headquarters of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's "Screaming Eagles," six miles southeast of Hue.

From midnight until dawn, enemy gunners poured in 300 rounds of mixed 82mm mortars, and Russian-made rockets that weigh 100 pounds and have a range of seven miles.

An enemy force of unknown size attacked the camp's perimeter for three hours. Headquarters said 21 North Vietnamese troops were killed. Eight paratroopers were reported killed and 51 wounded as a result of both the shelling and the ground attack.

For the second time in three days, enemy gunners pounded Camp Evans, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, 16 miles northwest of Hue and 20 miles from Phu Bai.

Several 122mm rockets tore into the base just before dawn, but headquarters said material damage was negligible and casualties were very light, with no fatalities.

A delayed official report on Sunday's shelling of Camp Evans described damage to helicopters there as moderate.

For security reasons, the U.S. Command did not specify the number of helicopters destroyed or damaged, but American sources said it would be reasonable to assume many were hit. In defining "moderate," an American spokesman said any damage beyond moderate requires a unit to curtail its mission.

Earlier, U.S. headquarters had announced the attack did heavy damage to the camp's ammunition stores, a description meaning the division could not operate until it received new ammunition. Presumably that was hurriedly flown in.

The U.S. Command also reported today that American casualties in the attack were light.

Also in the critical northern war zone, U.S. Marine headquarters at Da Nang announced that Marine units have killed more than 450 North Vietnamese troops in Operation Allen Brook, a drive launched May 4 to rid the populous coastal lowlands below Da Nang of enemy troops threatening such population centers as Da Nang, Hoi An and An Hoi.

South Vietnamese infantrymen operating southwest of the old imperial capital of Hue uncovered a North Vietnamese sand table of Hue's Citadel area, the scene of month-long fighting during the enemy's lunar new year offensive last February. The planning table possibly means the North Vietnamese are thinking of another all-out attack on Hue.

Gen. Westmoreland made a farewell visit today to headquarters of a division of South Korea's 48,000-man force at Ninh Hoa on the central coast. Westmoreland leaves in June to become U.S. Army chief of staff, and this was the first of a series of farewell calls on allied units.

In South Vietnamese politics, premier-designate Tran Van Huong went to visit Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, his leading opponent, apparently in an attempt to enlist Ky's support in forming a Cabinet comprising all of South Vietnam's anti-Communist factions.

Ky and some politically powerful military leaders, opponents of a negotiated peace, tried to block Huong's appointment by President Nguyen Van Thieu, whose position has been more flexible. The outgoing premier, Nguyen Van Loc, was a Ky man.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles single record, "Lady Madonna," has been certified as having sold a million copies, by the Record Industry Association of America.

It was certified a month after it was released, March 18. This is the 15th "gold single" by the Beatles.

local boards about making one large district, but no decision was reached. Last night board members said the time has come for action. They set June 12 for the discussion and asked McBride to arrange for a place and invite Quick or McKnight.

By resolution, the board set age 70 as the end of tenure for employees on continuing contracts, but included the privilege of giving limited contracts to persons over 70.

Contract renewals at present salaries were approved effective Aug. 1 for Fred Lohman, attendance officer, one year; Vernon Walrath, vocational education supervisor, one year; Mrs. June Ingraham, secretary, continuing; Lorin Ruff, elementary supervisor, three years; Hubert Lawrence, psychologist, three years, and Peter Marra, high school supervisor, three years.

Ruff reviewed proposed book adoptions suggested by teacher committees for spelling, music, Ohio history and health in grades 1-8.

THE BOARD recommended the following texts to the local boards for adoption for the next four years:

"Basic Goals in Spelling," (McGraw-Hill Book Co., 1963); "Exploring Music," (Holt, Rinehart & Winston, Inc., 1966 edition for grades 1-6, 1968 edition for grades 7-8); "The Buckeye State — Ohio," (Prentice-Hall, 1968), and "Where The Ohio Flows," (Benefic Press, 1964) and "The Laidlaw Health Series," (Laidlaw Bros., 1966).

Book adoptions for grades 9-12 will be made at the June meeting.

Asked about the uniform 1968-69 school calendar for public and parochial schools in Columbiana County, McBride said the parochial schools will have two additional days off and will make them up on a Thursday and Friday the last week of Christmas vacation. Parochial students are transported by public school buses.

McBride said a committee comprised of three superintendents — Robert Pond of Salem, Joe W. Driscoll of Lisbon and Roy Cashdollar of Beaver Local — has been appointed to meet with a representative of the Youngstown diocese to work out a uniform calendar for the next three years.

Travel

4 and is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

An airlines spokesman said what the proposed restrictions did was decrease the projected step-up in overseas travel preparations under way before the President's announcement in February.

One effect which has continued to the present, he said, has been the appreciable cancellation of group flights by American business firms.

It is believed that industry executives, who use such trips in their incentive programs, reacted both patriotically and with an eye on a possible government check of promotional and entertainment items on income tax returns.

These cancellations made a dent in travel figure projections, but the gap apparently is being filled by Americans who are not taking the restrictions seriously and by a big step-up in the drive to get foreign visitors to come to the United States.

Trans World Airlines reported that it has increased bookings for overseas flights and "anticipates a further upswing this summer."

Travel also is on the increase to and from Hawaii, California, the Virgin Islands, Canada and South America, the airlines report.

Braniff International Airways, which serves South America, said its travel has picked up 30 per cent over last year.

In another development, both Pan American and Trans World

Airlines announced Monday they temporarily had suspended flights to and from France because of the widespread strike in that country.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I go about washing a girle properly?

A. — Use mild suds and lukewarm water. Do not wring or twist if it contains elastic. Roll into a turkish towel to remove moisture, then dry flat on a dry towel away from heat and sunlight. Wash latex girdles after each wearing, dry and dust generously with talcum powder. Fabric panels of girdles may be ironed with a warm iron, but don't press the elastic portions.

Q. — How can I preserve the hard covers of books?

A. — Many libraries do this with shellac. You can do the same by spraying the shellac on with one of the ready-to-use sprays on the market.

Q. — What is a good recipe for a "chilled soup special?"

A. — Combine cream of mushroom soup with cream of chicken, one can each. Stir in one can of water and one can of milk. Add 1/4 cup of chopped shrimp (canned or fresh cooked), then chill thoroughly before serving. Chill your serving dishes, too.

Q. — How can I prevent the porous plaster in freshly-plastered holes or cracks in my walls from absorbing paint as I later paint these walls?

A. — After these patched areas dry completely, sandpaper them lightly, then apply a coat of shellac to them. The shellac sizes the plaster.

Q. — What can I do when burned food is difficult to remove from casseroles?

A. — Fill the casserole with warm water and add a teaspoonful of baking soda. The crusty matter will loosen quickly.

Q. — How can I protect the backs of my mirrors from scratches?

A. — By coating the backs with some clear shellac.

Q. — How can I remedy scratches in a shellacked surface?

A. — Shallow scratches can often be obliterated just by rubbing with alcohol. For deeper scratches, apply several coats of new shellac with a fine brush, then rub lightly with alcohol to smooth out the surface.

before proceeding to Louisville, Ky.

Abernathy told his followers there is enough money to finish the camp. He later told newsmen the money isn't all in, but he was sure the American people would come through with support. He gave no precise figures.

Activity outlined for today was on a much smaller scale than the demonstrations Abernathy had said earlier would begin within a few days. Those, he said, would be nonviolent but "more militant and more massive than have ever taken place in the history of this nation."

"We are gonna raise hell," he told cheering campaigners Monday morning. "We're not going to have any violence whatever because this is what the forces of evil want us to do... I don't mean we're going to burn the city down... We're just going to get it right."

A top SCLC aide said privately he doubted that demonstrations on a scale involving mass arrests or most of the camp's population would be scheduled for this week.

Talks

but with no current voice in the discussions in Paris.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam were to call on President Charles de Gaulle today, Harriman in the morning and Thuy late in the afternoon.

While the visits were listed as courtesy calls, each man was expected to discuss his government's position in the negotiations.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart will fly to Moscow Wednesday to confer with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. The two men are co-chairmen of the Indo-Chinese peace machinery created in 1954 and could be instrumental in arranging a peace conference if progress in the Paris talks ever warrants one.

Even more important, in the view of diplomats here, the Soviet government's influence on Hanoi. This is believed to have grown in the past year or so at the expense of Red China. As Peking's policy has fallen into the paralyzing grip of internal crisis, Vietnamese reliance on the Soviets is believed to have increased.

Harriman and Thuy meet again Wednesday, their talks having been in recess since Saturday.

French officials have been under orders to treat the talks with the cordial, hands-off courtesy of a host government which has no responsibility for the success or failure of the negotiations. U.S. diplomats believe that De Gaulle will stick to this posture but will be willing, if the need arises, to use French contacts and influence to help reconcile a difference or break a deadlock.

The key powers in Hanoi have been the Soviet Union and China, and American analysts usually credited Peking with more authority than Moscow. Speculation that the balance has shifted seemed to be confirmed by North Vietnam's decision to go into peace talks at all.

Moscow has welcomed the talks while Peking has condemned them.

Public Soviet statements have given broad support to North Vietnam's opening position—the demand for prompt and unconditional cessation of all bombing and "all other acts of war" against North Vietnam.

U.S. officials consider Soviet support of the Vietnamese demands to be in line with standard Soviet policy. But they also think that Soviet leaders want to get the war over and probably will use their influence in private with both the United States and North Vietnam to try to bring that about.

Several reasons are advanced for this view. One is that military aid to the Vietnamese is now estimated to be costing the Soviet Union about $5 billion a year. Another is that the Soviets would like to improve their relations with the United States and would find this less difficult if the two great powers were not on opposite sides of the war.

Archaeologists Dig For Ancient Pavement

JERUSALEM (AP) — Archaeologists digging below the western and southern walls of the ancient Temple Mount in Arab East Jerusalem expect to uncover a marble pavement laid by King Herod nearly 2,500 years ago.

Prof. Benyamin Mazar, leading the dig around the sacred mount where the Jews' second temple stood until its destruction in 70 A.D., said the pavement is about 24 feet underground.

After the marble is unearthed, the dig will trace the walls of Ophel, the biblical city of David, he said.

Bids To Be Asked

Sewer Projects Will Be Speeded

A resolution clearing the way for bids on three sanitary sewer projects was approved by Council Monday night.

The Board of Public Utilities was authorized to seek bids for the sewers to service the new East Liverpool High School and North Elementary High School off Maine Blvd., improve parts of Wooster Ave. and improve the Alton St. area.

THE SCHOOL sewer will start on Maine Blvd. and run to a point in the center of Haywood and Broad Sts. Previously the city considered running the sewer to tie in with a main running down Avondale St., but it was feared the sewer could not carry the load.

The construction will be of hard-burned vitrified material. The city will issue bonds in anticipation of collection of assessments for the projects, with the assessment being paid in five annual installments.

It was noted the Gardendale and Shadyside Ave. sewer improvements are next in line. It is necessary to begin the Maine Blvd. project quickly since the school will open in September.

Council also approved a resolution authorizing Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids on various supplies. The list includes 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 500 gallons of motor oil, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel, 200 gallons of hydraulic oil, 300 tons of road salt, 3,000 tons of cinders and 50,000 gallons of road oil.

A RESOLUTION was adopted approving a $1,035 contract between the director and the United States Steel Corp. for steel fencing and fixtures at the East End garage. The fence was erected to protect various supplies. Some 131 feet of 84-inch high cyclone fencing, two gates, posts and fixtures were used.

Another resolution was adopted repealing previous legislation authorizing the city auditor to pay a $303 claim to Everett Switzer. The claim has been paid by an insurance company, it was pointed out.

The street committee was asked to investigate a petition from four residents of Baxter St. asking for grading and drainage improvements between Craft and Ceramic Sts.

Council approved a $38.20 claim for Anthony J. Hodskei of 821 Chester Ave., whose car was struck by the fire department's squad truck on May 2.

Two other claims were turned down. Ambrose J. Grafton of 2206 1/2 Avondale St. asked $124.59 for damages in his basement which he said resulted when sewage backed up through the lines. An investigation showed surface water was leaking through the walls, the legislators said.

John A. Walsh of 1071 St. George St. asked $343 for damages to a vehicle in a 1967 accident. It was filed through the Shelby Mutual Insurance Co. of Youngstown.

The street committee was asked to check a storm sewer along Louis St. in Pleasant Heights. Residents claim the sewer was damaged by a street grader and want 50 feet replaced. Vodrey said this happens when the sewer is not installed at the proper depth.

He informed Council the street sweeper has been repaired and will be back in operation today.

DURING the caucus session, Council met with a delegation of East End property owners who asked for a rezoning of a section from Pennsylvania Ave. from Virginia Ave. to Boyce St. Charles Papendry of 1058 Pennsylvania Ave. said the group would like the area changed from a residential to a commercial section.

George Steele, Planning Commission chairman, and Don Eckert, planning coordinator, explained the necessary steps. Eckert will meet Saturday morning with Papendry to go over the procedure.

The planning and zoning commission also presented Council several suggested changes and additions to the section governing public signs. The changes outlined bulletin boards for churches, schools, etc., signs on business places, permanent sign on wall of buildings, ground signs and the sizes permitted.

Christmas display lighting will not be restricted under the action. The action also covers political signs.

Council will study the proposals. The next regular meeting will be June 17.

June 10 Meeting To Be Conducted By Eastern Star

IRONDALE — Members of Irondale Chapter 569, Order of Eastern Star, will meet June 10 at the Masonic Temple, with a "ware party" following.

The annual inspection was held this month, with Mrs. Faye Douds of Dover inspecting officer.

Participating were Mrs. Ernest Rawson, worthy matron, and Robert Eakin, worthy patron.

Guests included Mrs. Russell Bean of Newcomerstown, past grand matron of Ohio, and Mrs. Lloyd Dinger, grand representative of Kentucky in Ohio.

Represented at the inspection were delegations from Newcomerstown, Uhrichsville, Unionport, Toronto, Freeport, Scio, Steubenville, Dover, Smithfield, New Philadelphia, Strasburg, Bolivar, Port Washington, Salineville and Wellsville.

Mrs. William Banfield presented the new candidates with white Bibles as gifts from the chapter.

Mrs. Lewis Workman presented a vocal solo, with Mrs. Pauline Paisley at the piano.

Serving on various committees were Mrs. William Nicholson, Mrs. Robert Eakin, Mrs. Banfield, Mrs. Raymond Patton, Mrs. George Summers, Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mrs. Paul Seever, Mrs. Fred Hogue and Mrs. Aldo Pilutti.

The inspection dinner was served by the missionary women at the New Somerset Christian Church.

OEA Sets Study Of Conditions In School District

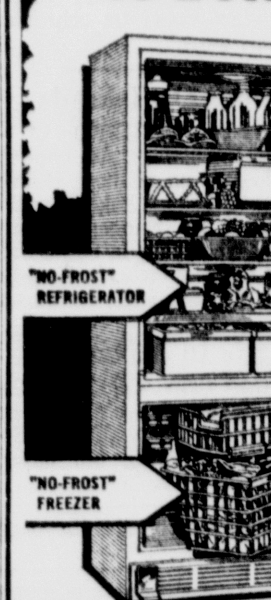

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association announced today its Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission will conduct a full-scale study into education conditions in the Fowler Vienna School District in Trumbull County.

Dr. Kermit Daugherty, secretary to the commission, said the study will be held as soon as a panel of educators can be assembled to conduct it. He indicated this would be within a month.

The action comes as a result of 15 charges leveled at both the board of education and school superintendents by the Fowler-Vienna Education Association. Violations of state law pertaining to operation of schools are among the alleged conditions in the district.

Daugherty said a preliminary check of educational conditions in the district warranted the study.

Moro Regime Posts Italian Senate Gains

ROME (AP) — Despite sizable Communist gains, Premier Aldo Moro's center-left coalition won a smashing 60 per cent of the total vote for Italy's Senate in complete returns today from Italy's general election. Returns for the Chamber of Deputies were running in the same pattern.

The three government parties —Moro's Christian Democrats, the unified Socialists and the Republicans—won a total of 183 of the 315 Senate seats, a majority of four and a comfortable gain of 51 in the upper house.

Moro's chief partners, the unified Socialists, lost ground but the third party in the coalition, the tiny Republican party, doubled its percentage of the vote and won seats in the Senate for the first time.

The Communists' allies, the Moscow-line Proletarian Socialist party, also gained. The conservative Liberals, the Fascists and the Monarchists all lost ground.

It was taken for granted that Italy's Socialist president, Giuseppe Saragat, would ask Moro to form a new government.

After the gains of the Communists and the Proletarian Socialist party, there will probably be a resurgence of demands by Socialist deputies for party leader Pietro Nenni to end his alliance with the Christian Democrats and link up with the extreme left. A showdown should come at the party congress in the fall.

The election results indicated a restoration of confidence in Moro's Vatican-backed Christian Democrats after losses in the last election five years ago.

CAP Takes Part In 2 Area Events

Twenty cadets and senior members represented the East Liverpool Civil Air Patrol in events at Ravenna and Warren over the weekend.

The squadron, commanded by 1st Lt. Don Poole, left Glenmoor School Saturday at 10 a.m. by bus, and participated in a parade at Ravenna honoring Police Week.

Lunch was served by members of the Ravenna Legion post. The group then went on to the Warren Air Force base for an open house observance Sunday.

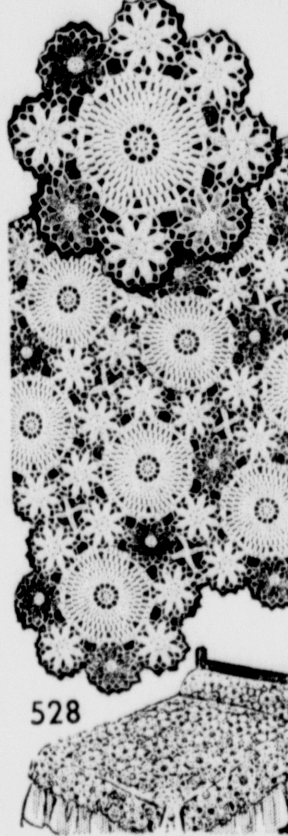

Members of the squadron were overnight guests of the Warren CAP unit, with Capt. Charles F. Cole and Lt. Poole in charge of arrangements.

LBJ 'Jabs' At Some Of Campaign Oratory

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may have added a new phrase to the 1968 political lexicon: "Bad-mouthing our country."

Johnson used the term twice in apparently extemporaneous asides while addressing a philanthropic banquet in New York Monday night.

He returned to Washington immediately after the speech.

Johnson didn't accuse anyone of "bad-mouthing" and didn't relate it directly to the presidential campaign. But the entire context of his speech made it evident he looks with something less than full approval on much of the campaign oratory.

Talking to affluent patrons of the Arthritis Foundation, Johnson said: "I simply refuse to accept the diagnosis of fatal sickness in our society—and I refuse to follow those who say that."

The quote "refuse to follow" in the statement apparently sprang spontaneously from his lips.

He went on: "I refuse to accept the diagnosis of indifference in our society—and I say shame on you who point that out."

Once again, the "shame on you" remark seemingly was off the cuff.

The burden of the President's speech was that the nation can solve its problems and is not sick, indifferent or racist.

But he repeatedly returned to the thought that some individuals, unnamed, are tearing down rather than building up the country.

America's problems, he said, "will not be solved if we give way to crippling despair or to bad-mouthing our country all day long or all week long."

Johnson said the problems "will be solved by the impatience of the American people—but not by pessimism and the bad-mouthing of the American people."

Neither reference to "bad-mouthing" was in his prepared text.

Johnson acknowledged the United States has its faults, and added in another extemporaneous statement that these are faults "of which we are constantly reminded."

More specifically, he cited problems of poverty, racism, ignorance and illness which "still plague us."

Western Beaver Students Await Picnic At Idora

Pupils of the Western Beaver school system are awaiting the annual picnic at Idora Park in Youngstown Wednesday.

Students will not report to school as in the past, but instead will board buses at the regular stops beginning at 10 a. m. The buses will assemble at the Fairview Elementary School before leaving for the park.

School officials pointed out that children in the fourth grade or below are not permitted to ride the buses unless they are accompanied by an adult. The price of bus tickets is 65 cents for children and $1.25 for adults.

The park will be in operation from 1 to 6 p. m., with the buses due back at approximately 7:30.

SOME DAY
SOMEONE MAY INVENT
SOMETHING
BETTER THAN
GAS

..BUT DON'T BET ON IT.

The guy who tries to come up with something faster, more flexible, or with greater cooking control than today's clean, precise Gas flame will have quite a job. He'll have to top such cooking conveniences as the burner-with-a-brain, oven-with-a-mind, automatic cook and hold, automatic meat programming, smokeless broiling. (All are Gas range exclusives). And his Whatsis will at least have to match Gas for cleanliness... and for economy of operation. (That's almost too much to ask).

Sure, some day someone may invent something that

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE. GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

Bids Opened For Midland Walk Project

Bids for replacement of sunken sidewalks in the Springlane area were opened at a meeting of the Midland Municipal Authority Monday night at the water department building.

Gingerella Construction Co. and the George Stuten Co. both bid $3,150. The offers were turned over to the Michael Baker Co., consulting engineers, for further study.

A spokesman said residents on the south side of Midland Ave., from the Springlane traffic signal to the west end of Midland, have complained about tripping on the rough sidewalk which has sunken since a pipeline was installed in 1961.

The directors approved completion of contracts for new pipes and a booster station under the water system expansion project. The 1.5 million-gallon reservoir was water tested and painted and is now being filled again for testing for final approval.

Grading and seeding at the reservoir site is to be completed by the Stuten Co.

The board made a third requisition for $43,348 in funds from the $171,000 Economic Development Agency grant for the project. The final requisition will be made after completion and auditing of the project. Target date for final inspection by EDA engineers is June 14.

The final payment of $334 for brick facing the settling basin at the water plant was paid to Natale Gerani, building contractor of Beaver Falls. The total cost was $6,685.

The directors will attend the national convention of the American Water Works Association at Cleveland June 2-7.

Registration Set At Newell School

Pre-school registration at the Jefferson Elementary building in Newell will be held Thursday from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Miss Betty Buben, principal, has announced.

Parents of children who will be 6 years old on or before Oct. 31 should plan to attend with their youngsters. Room visitation will be held and teachers will be introduced.

The school Parent-Teacher Association will offer refreshments for the children. A booklet, "Welcome to School," will be distributed.

Miss Buben reminded that children must have immunization records and a birth certificate, according to West Virginia state law.

District Attorney Names Tosh Aide

BEAVER — District Atty. John Goode today announced appointment of Atty. James C. Tosh of Beaver as assistant district attorney.

'Seek Highest Goals,' Students Are Advised

Jerry Russell, supervisor of elementary education in the St. Clairsville public school system, challenged 42 Wellsville high school students to "reach for the highest goals" during the annual Jaycee Scholastic Awards banquet Monday in the SOI hall.

Russell told the students, who have attained at least a 3.75 cumulative average for all high school work, "to be like the tortoise, which sticks its neck out everytime before it makes progress."

In his address on "Excellence," he praised the parents for creating academically inclined students and not "bearded and beaded beatniks."

Seven students received special recognition by qualifying for the awards four consecutive years. They are Cathy Carosiello, Randy Clark, Mary Alice Doyle, Mary Hamilton, Jessica Hawk, Judy Kemeny and Lubert Luckino.

Ralph Fusco, toastmaster, speaking for the Jaycees, said the event is the most rewarding of all the projects undertaken by the organization.

Robert Wescott, program chairman, was assisted by William Telzow, Jaycee president, and Mike Cook, Jaycee vice president.

Burglary Trial Drawing To End

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury will hear closing arguments this afternoon in the trial of Edward J. Gorman, 43, of Darlington RD 3, charged with burglary Jan. 29 at the VFW post in East Palestine.

Chief of Police Wallace Dillworth, Robert Fuller, a part-time bartender at the post, and Robert Flickinger, former steward, were among state's witnesses Monday.

The testimony developed that Gorman was with a carnival which set up last summer next to the VFW building, and spent his leisure time in the post.

Jack Kuhlman of Columbiana, defense counsel, does not dispute the state's evidence that a burglary was committed, but denies the defendant was involved. He planned to have Gorman testify this morning.

Coffee Can For Cooling

DEAR HELOISE: On a recent car trip with our month-old daughter we discovered another use for three-pound coffee cans.

They serve as an excellent cooler for baby bottles! We put the bottles in the cans, packed ice around them and replaced the plastic top.

Heloise

We kept the can in a cool part of the car and were pleased to find ice cubes still remaining when we arrived at our destination four hours later. Replenishing the ice cubes would make it an efficient carrier for longer trips or for storage in a motel room.

An extra three-pound can taken on a trip also makes an excellent airtight diaper pail for changes enroute.

MARCIA BRANDT.
Marcia, it's a great idea. And those wonderful wet paper towels can be used for baby later. . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea that the "gals over 40" might appreciate.

Mini skirts have their place. However, today so many of the summer shifts or comfortable sleeveless dresses come in rather short lengths. This, of course, causes no concern for the mini skirt wearer.

But since I don't wear 'em, I found a way to solve this problem. I found, is to "skip up" to the drapery department. Pick out some drapery fringe, either the regular fringe or the ball type. Sew the fringe on the bottom of the shift which you have let down to the maximum length.

This not only makes you feel comfortable when you wear it, but it also gives you a little added glamour and an extra comment.

ECLIA.

DEAR HELOISE: I had a jar of marshmallow fluff on my shelf that I wanted to use, but it had become hard. Rather than add warm water in the jar to soften and dilute it, I put the jar in a pan of warm water and set it on the stove over a very low flame for a minute or so.

Shortly, all the fluff was soft and spreadable again. Saved having to buy a new jar and nothing wasted.

AVID READER

DEAR HELOISE: When I go on vacation in my car I always throw my telephone directory in the trunk.

Everyone always says, "Drop me a card."

So, by having the directory right with me, I have all the addresses handy which makes it so quick and easy for addressing cards back home.

VACATIONER.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't take this real seriously or put it in your pipe and smoke it because you might get choked on it.

But just for fun write down what you wish you could do today. I didn't do me any good, but I sure had fun trying.

HOUSEWIFE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband and I received two lovely spice sets as wedding presents. One had white bottles with names already on them and the other was a set of clear glass bottles with an assortment of labels from which to choose and label the jars according to preference.

The white labels set hangs in our kitchen near the stove, filled and ready to flavor.

The set of clear bottles hangs in my sewing room with each sparkling bottle gaily displaying its contents — drapery hooks, safety pins, buttons, snaps, etc.

Duplicate wedding gifts are sometimes a problem. But we couldn't be more pleased with our two spice racks.

SHARON STUCKEY.

DEAR HELOISE: I had several white "linen-look" plastic dresser scarfs. They were turning yellow and I was just about ready to throw them out, but decided to try and tint them with an all-purpose dye.

I tinted them pink to match my bedspread and curtains, and they are really beautiful.

2 Instructed To Get Permit

Two motorists who appeared in Municipal Court this morning were granted time to obtain proper operator permits.

Westley J. Roe of 301 Main St., Wellsville, was cited at 2:45 a. m. today on Route 7 by the Ohio Highway Patrol for driving without a valid license.

He was stopped because his car had one headlight burned out. The car has Florida license plates.

Roe, who posted a $107.50 bond, told Judge Samuel Chertoff he has been unable to locate his Florida driving license. The judge continued the hearing to give him an opportunity to obtain a license.

David Allen Cheuvront of 151 Pennsylvania Ave. was cited for driving without a license Monday at 10:55 p. m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman W. F. Copestick. He pleaded guilty and when questioned told the court he never has owned a license.

Judge Chertoff gave him a suspended sentence of five days in the County Jail at Lisbon on the condition he obtain a license by June 1 and present it to the court by June 3.

William E. Hill of Dodge St. forfeited a $27.50 bond when he failed to appear on a patrol charge of speeding on Route 7. He was cited May 16.

Another continuance was granted in the case of Edward J. Emmler of 7th Ave., LaCroft, on charges of driving under suspension of a license and driving while under the influence of alcohol filed July 28, 1965. The case was reset for June 5. Emmler explained he has been unable to obtain the services of another attorney. He had been represented by the late William S. Foulks.

New Cumberland Group To Attend Follansbee Rally

NEW CUMBERLAND—Members of the Altar and Rosary Society of the Immaculate Conception Church here will be among those attending Sunday's meeting of the Weirton Deanevry Council of Catholic Women at St. Anthony's Church in Follansbee.

Plans for the event were made during a session of the society in the church room, with Mrs. Harold Robinson presiding.

A letter was read from Mrs. H. D. McGinnis, president of the Council of Catholic Women, announcing the appointment of Mrs. Robinson as diocesan chairman of the Community Affairs Commission.

A letter from the Board of Trustees of the Hancock County Children's Home was read thanking the society for sponsoring the Easter egg hunt.

Mary Agnes Bowen, reporting for the International Relations Commission, asked for volunteers to help sew hospital gowns. Members who will assist in the project are Mrs. Frank Molnar, Mrs. Vincent Gala, Mrs. Frank Krzyz and Mrs. Mike Macek.

The society will sponsor a queen for the New Cumberland firemen's parade in June. Mrs. Ralph Cain is chairman of the project.

Plans were discussed for the annual parish picnic June 30 at the FOPA grounds on Kings Creek Rd., Weirton.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Cain and Mrs. John Janura.

Midland Driver Faces Beaver Falls Hearing

Beaver Falls police say Charles M. James, 43, of 326 Penn Ave., Midland, will be charged with a stop sign violation as a result of a two-car collision Monday afternoon.

James' car and one operated by Ronald Stratton, 17, of Beaver Falls collided at 9th Ave. and 13th St., Beaver Falls, at 4:12 p. m.

James told police he did not see the stop sign until too late. His car was struck in the side by Stratton's, causing some $500 damage to both. No one was injured, officers said.

Honolulu, Hilo and Wahiawa are the three largest cities in Hawaii.

Thousands Greet Him In Los Angeles
Kennedy Receives Wild Reception In California

By JOE MOHBAT

Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — People tore off his shoes, ripped at his clothes, and virtually threatened Robert F. Kennedy's physical safety.

In the wildest scene in nine weeks of campaigning, the New York senator rode triumphantly through Los Angeles and its suburbs Monday night and found thousands awaiting him.

In intensity and size it surpassed any of hundreds of demonstrations that have marked Kennedy's presidential campaign.

At times it had a dream-like quality. A television spotlight illuminated the figure on the top of the open car. Kennedy stood and smiled and waved at those who shouted "Bobby," his blue shirt rumpled and wet, his sleeves rolled above the elbow, his shirt tail flapping outside his wrinkled trousers.

He clutched at the thousands of fluttering hands thrust up at him. His graying, light brown hair was a tangled mop.

At the big intersections where crowds gathered, the people rushed him, mindless of others about them or the aides and newsmen perched on his car.

They screamed and clawed and climbed over one another to be near him. Wide-eyed women raked with their nails at anyone in their way. Strong young men waded in, elbows flailing.

They hung onto his hands or arms and wouldn't let go, and at times Kennedy was doubled over with his head pulled nearly down to the trunk of the car.

Knocking doggedly at his side for three hours was his security man, 225-pound Bill Barry, whose arm was locked securely above Kennedy's waist to keep him from being pulled to the street.

Barry couldn't keep admirers from tugging the shoes from Kennedy's feet, leaving the candidate standing on top of the car in his socks.

Another aide, Fred Dutton, lent his boss his own shoes when he spoke, two hours late, at a synagogue.

At Temple Isaiah, Kennedy called for a U.S.-Soviet agreement to end arms shipments to the Middle East.

"In the long run," he said, "the Middle East arms race helps no one—least of all the people of that region, who have lived under war for two decades. What we need instead is a U.S.-Soviet agreement—perhaps through treaty—to defuse the arms shipments."

Capabilities Limited

Pollution-Free Electric Cars Reported Developed

DETROIT (AP)—With the internal-combustion engine under attack as an ear-warring pollution-spewer, engineers said today they have developed quiet, pollution-free electric cars that meet most commuter and suburban needs.

But problems remain and the vehicle's capabilities are limited.

Three experimental efforts—by Ford Motor Co., General Electric Co., and Electric Fuel Propulsion Co.—were described in research reports prepared for the current Society of Automotive Engineers meeting in Detroit.

Robert A. Aronson of Electric Fuel Propulsion, a Ferndale, Mich., firm, said its Mars II experimental electric car "will meet the driving requirements of many residents of urban and suburban areas in terms of speed and range."

Top speed of the Mars II, he said, is 65 miles per hour, compared to 55 mph for GE's Delta and 40 mph for the Comuta developed by British researchers.

The typical medium-size U.S. built automobile can go more than 200 miles on a tank of gasoline before needing refueling, and this far outdistances the range of the electric.

EEP says its model has a maximum range of 125 miles. GE says its model can go 105, and Ford says the Comuta's range is 40 miles before batteries are exhausted of power and need recharging.

One problem is that the recharging process takes 8 to 10 hours on electric current of 110-120 volts, which is the normal house voltage.

It can be cut some—to 45 minutes to 2½ hours—by special high-voltage rechargers designed by the researchers, but not generally available at service stations, garages or homes.

The batteries of the electric, while costly—$300 to more than $600 depending on size—might last for up to 50,000 miles, Aronson said.

2 Warrants Issued In Local Tax Cases

Bench warrants were issued for two city residents when they failed to appear this morning in Municipal Court on charges they failed to file a 1967 estimate with the city income tax department.

Rudy Siebert of 165 Pennsylvania Ave. and John Weyand of 519 1st Ave. were charged in warrants filed by D. G. Wilkinson, tax department supervisor.

They are accused of failing to file before the deadline April 15.

3 Teachers Hired

School Board Appoints Food Services Director

The East Liverpool Board of Education Monday night employed a coordinator of food services for the city schools and appointed three new teachers.

Mrs. Juarine Lee of Steubenville, presently head of the Indian Creek Local School cafeteria system, was given a two-year contract as coordinator of food services for the system.

Mrs. Lee, who will move to East Liverpool this summer, will receive a salary of $6,800 the first year and $7,000 the second. The salary will be paid from the cafeteria fund instead of the general operating fund, and she will be employed on a 10-month basis.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hist, a teacher in the system since 1949, who is retiring. She has been teaching at the Horace Mann building, Miss Karen L. Keddie of East Liverpool also resigned. She is leaving the area.

MRS. JOANNE Six of New Cumberland was hired for the balance of the term to fill the vacancy created by the death of Miss Delores Hughes. Also hired were Mrs. Mary Ann Potts of Orchard Grove Ave. and Charles Wilfred Padgett of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Potts, an elementary teacher, is a native of Roshtott, S. D. She received her bachelor's degree from Concordia College in Moorhead, Minn., in 1963, and has been teaching for four years.

Padgett, a 1964 graduate of East Liverpool High School, will receive his bachelor's degree from Geneva College in June. He will teach at the high school, and is certified for biology, chemistry and general science.

Vacancies in the custodial staff were filled for Westgate and East Junior. Charles Richard Weaver of 800 1/2 Morton St. and Ronald Thomas Kreshon of 314 Jackson St. were hired for these buildings.

In other staff changes, Charles Fazzone was employed as faculty ticket manager to replace James Render who resigned. Fazzone will assume his duties during the summer when ticket sales will begin for the football season.

McCarthy Matches Words With Wrong Kennedy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who has been pressing for a presidential campaign debate with rival Robert F. Kennedy, has come within one brother of his target. He matched words with a Kennedy, but the wrong Kennedy.

The Minnesota Democrat headed his campaign back into Oregon today after his inconclusive encounter with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a stand-in for Robert at a San Francisco labor dinner.

The printed program for the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education fund-raising dinner listed Robert Kennedy as the man who would share the platform with McCarthy. And McCarthy himself originally accepted the invitation with the idea he would be face to face with Kennedy.

It didn't work out that way. "I came prepared to offer the vice presidency to Sen. Kennedy," McCarthy told more than 400 people at the dinner Monday night — "of Massachusetts."

McCarthy and Kennedy of New York met June 4 in California's crucial, final presidential primary.

But their next encounter is due May 28 in Oregon. Campaigned for that one, McCarthy planned to hunt votes today in Klamath Falls, Coos Bay and Corvallis.

National leaders of organized labor are backing the presidential campaign of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Edward Kennedy questioned that course without mentioning Humphrey by name.

"Is it a time for complacency?" he asked. "Is it a time for joy? Is it a time for the status quo? In the history of this country the call for complacency has never moved labor."

Kennedy said he is confident union men will recognize the righteousness of Robert Kennedy's cause. "We shall continue to look for the encouragement and support of the union man."

The Kennedy forces issued a six-page dossier of correspondence to explain why their candidate was not there. He was campaigning in Southern California.

Robert Kennedy wired organizers of the dinner that he had never accepted the invitation to speak there and regretted that "confusion apparently has developed as to which Sen. Kennedy will be present."

He said other commitments kept him from attending.

He asked the board to accept the general contract of the Potlows Construction Co. at the North Elementary with the noted exceptions of work that cannot be completed until other contractors have completed specific jobs. The board voted to accept the North Elementary contract effective Friday. The board also noted that clarification of the specifications concerning the transformer pad had been made and the change order had been approved under project 491.

JACKMAN VODREY, assistant city solicitor, announced that all necessary arrangements to get the Maine Blvd. sewer completed on time have been made.

City Council adopted the necessary resolution at its meeting last night. Vodrey said that assessments to all abutting land owners, including the Board of Education, have been made. Owners will be notified of their assessment and will have two weeks to file written objections.

In other business, William E. Blair Jr. was sworn in by the board clerk as a new member replacing Mrs. Nessie Dunlop who resigned.

A tentative list of 346 seniors was approved for graduation June 4. Permission was given to the Orchard Grove Methodist Church to use three classrooms at Lincoln School June 10-14 for Bible School. A resolution was passed that a copy of the tentative agenda be available in the superintendent's office the day of a board meeting to any resident.

Fireman's Auto Strikes Another In Lisbon Alarm

LISBON — Donald Coleman, 28, a volunteer fireman answering an alarm at 7 a. m. today, was involved in a two-car collision under the traffic light on the Square.

Police said Coleman was driving east on Lincoln Way (U.S. Route 30) and struck a sedan driven by Ruth E. Warrick, 25, of Lisbon RD 2, who was going north on Market St.

There was extensive damage to the left front of her 1965 sedan and to Coleman's 1965 model sedan, which ended up on the east sidewalk on N. Market.

He posted a $15 bond for appearance May 28 before Mayor Clyde B. Pike on a charge of running a red light.

Other firemen answered the call to a 1961 Comet owned by Leona Evans of Lisbon RD 4, which caught fire at the junction of Route 30 and the County Home Rd. Firemen said there was damage to the carburetor and wiring.

As part of a training course now in progress, local firemen last night burned a two-story frame dwelling on S. Beaver St. with the consent of Eugene Tolson, the owner. They said they controlled the flames so well that a mother robin did not leave her nest in a nearby tree.

Two More Ohioans Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified Monday 178 men killed in recent action in Vietnam. Two of the victims were from Ohio.

The Ohioans were Army Sgt. Richard L. Moss, Dayton, and Army Cpl. Burl D. Jewett, Newport.

Police said four windows were smashed. In the scale house, the intruders ransacked desk drawers, removed a first-aid kit from the wall and scattered the contents and broke light bulbs.

They then entered another office and ransacked drawers. A closer inventory will be made to learn if anything was stolen.

In Basel, Switzerland, chimney sweeps still wear traditional top hats, and carry ladders and brooms.

Intruders Ransack Offices Of Company

Nothing apparently was taken from two offices at the Tri-State Asphalt Co. plant on the River Rd. in an entry Monday night.

Dan Humphrey, superintendent, who discovered the entry at 5:30 a. m., said the building had been closed Monday at 5:30 p. m.

Police said four windows were smashed. In the scale house, the intruders ransacked desk drawers, removed a first-aid kit from the wall and scattered the contents and broke light bulbs.

They then entered another office and ransacked drawers. A closer inventory will be made to learn if anything was stolen.

Penn-Sheraton Is Sold Back To Pittsburgh Men

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Penn-Sheraton may still be a hotel after all.

A knowledgeable source says the New York realtor which bought the big building is selling it back to a group of Pittsburgh businessmen.

The New York firm, Arlen Properties, reportedly had but no one has occupied it since planned to convert the Penn-Sheraton to an office building, but the Pittsburghers plan to maintain it as a hotel.

With 1,600 rooms, the Penn-Sheraton is the biggest hotel between New York and Chicago, but no one has occupied it since a strike closed it in October.

A Pittsburgh group—reportedly a different one from the one which now may buy it—was given first crack at purchasing the building. For about a week, the Penn-Sheraton hovered between hotel and office building as private talks went on, first between the potential buyers and the two striking unions, then between the businessmen and the Sheraton Corp.

The deal fell through, though, and Arlen Properties bought the Penn-Sheraton.

None of the principals involved have confirmed the latest report but one of the would-be buyers said he was "90 per cent sure" the deal would be completed.

Government Outlines Its Case Against Dr. Spock

BOSTON (AP) — The federal government outlines its case today against Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others charged with conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

Government prosecutors in opening statements to a jury of 12 men and three male alternates, tell what they intend to prove against the five defendants.

The jury was impaneled Monday in U.S. District Court despite arguments by the defense that women were discriminated against on the panel.

Leonard Boudin, Spock's lawyer, questioned Court Clerk Russell Peck why there were only nine women on the list of 110 jury prospects.

Peck admitted the list made him look like a "misogynist," or woman hater, but said selection was made at random.

Judge Francis J. W. Ford denied a motion by the defense to discard the list and draw up another.

Boudin did not indicate why he wished more women on the jury.

However, Dr. Spock, the internationally known pediatrician, helped a generation of mothers raise their children through his book "Baby and Child Care."

Spock, 65, is on trial with Yale chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a graduate student at Harvard; Mitchell Goodman, 44, of New York and Temple, Maine, an author and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 33, co-director of the Institute for Political Studies in Washington.

If convicted, they each face up to five years in federal prison and $10,000 in fines.

The defendants appeared relaxed during the opening day. They chatted with acquaintances outside the court room.

Sets Fund, Victory Goals

O'Grady Elected As New Ohio Democrat Chairman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cheered by signs of intraparty harmony, Ohio's new Democratic state chairman set goals Monday of a $1 million campaign fund and "complete victory in November."

Eugene "Pete" O'Grady denied the chairmanship two years ago by a faction within the party, breezed into the job Monday. A motion was made at the meeting of the State Executive Committee asking retiring Chairman Morton Neipp of Toledo to stay on, but O'Grady said there was no second.

Neipp served as chairman the past two years without pay and named O'Grady executive director at $18,000 a year. O'Grady will have the same salary as chairman.

O'Grady said a considerable amount of the party's campaign funds will go into the U.S. Senate race, where John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati faces Republican Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

Neipp and O'Grady engineered Gilligan's upset of incumbent Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the May 7 Democratic primary.

Rita DeGrandis of Cleveland was elected secretary of the Executive Committee and Ralph R. Barrett of Newark was chosen as treasurer. Newly elected vice chairmen are William A. Lavelle, Athens; Robert A. Horstman, Kettering; Samuel R. Gerber, Cleveland; J. Grant Keys, Elvira; Mary Hazel Floyd, New Boston; Helen T. Gunseti, Van Wert; Gertrude W. Donahey, Columbus.

Privacy's Still Needed

By

Ann
Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Regarding the sixth-grade kid who signed himself "Privacy Needed" and complained because the lady teacher kept busting into the boys' rest room looking for smokers:

I can understand the boys' embarrassment and you were right when you said the investigating should be done by a male, but, as a lady teacher who has had to do the investigating because no male is around to do it, may I present my position?

Smoking is the least of the devilry going on in junior high school rest rooms. The boys empty the ground-soap containers and throw the stuff all over the floor. They fill balloons with water and pour it into the hall trash receptacles. They drop rolls of tissue into the toilets and stop up the whole works.

At a school where a friend of mine teaches, the boys actually tore the plumbing out of the walls.

Recently, we had the bathrooms painted and one of the boys told me I had to come with him and see the funniest thing in the world. He took me into the lavatory, and there on the ceiling were greasy black shoe prints. Several boys must have held one kid upside down to achieve this startling effect.

Since you strive for realism, I thought you might like to hear from someone who is able to tell it like it is. — UNWILLING INTRUDER.

Dear Unwilling: I appreciate your letter and am printing it at the risk of giving the little demons new ideas. If greasy shoe prints begin to appear on freshly painted ceilings all over the country, you and I must accept the blame.

I still say — A male should do the investigating and lady teachers should stay the heck out of boys' bathrooms.

Survey Takers

Dear Ann: Why is it that during a time of sorrow there is always someone around who is measuring the intensity of grief display by the family?

One hears statements such as, "She must be hard as nails — hasn't shed a tear through this whole thing." If there is a display of agony, the same person will remark, "She must be awfully guilty or she wouldn't be putting on such a show."

Recently I heard this comment at a funeral where the children wept openly: "Now that it's too late they show some feeling for their poor old mother. When she alive they didn't bother with her."

For the life of me I can't figure out why people make such tasteless, unkind and ignorant remarks. Can you? — BAF-LED BETTY.

Dear Baff: Because they are tasteless, unkind and ignorant people.

Ageless Problem

Dear Ann: I grew up with a girl who always has been a terrible liar. Catherine is exactly my age. In fact our birthdays fall the same week.

Last week I heard her tell the ladies of our garden club that she is 42. She is 48 — born in 1920, just as I was.

Do you think I ought to give the ladies the facts? I hate to see her get away with it. — CROWDING 50 AND NOT ASHAMED.

Dear Crowding: What is she getting away with? Do you think anyone gives a hangnail whether Catherine is 42 or 48 or 98? Age is only a number and most people could care less about someone else's number. Forget it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stephens Slated To Retire From Highway Position

William S. Stephens, 64, of Crafton, Pennsylvania Highways Department district engineer for Allegheny and Beaver counties, will retire June 19.

Stephens, who has 25 years of service with the department, has been serving as Pittsburgh District Engineer since March 1967. No successor has been named.

A registered professional engineer under Civil Service, Stephens was graduated from Johnstown High School in 1921, and Bucknell University in 1927. He was captain of the 1926 Bucknell football team and later did post graduate work at Penn State University. He was an aide in Indiana District 17 years. He was in the Hollidaysburg District for three years as a maintenance superintendent and assistant district maintenance superintendent. He had been in the Pittsburgh District five years and was district maintenance engineer.

Stephens began his career with the department in 1932 as assistant maintenance superintendent in the Indiana District. Aside from his many years in the Department he also was employed as an engineer with the architectural and engineering firm of Hunter & Caldwell in Altoona (1935-39); engineer with Syntrom Company, Homer City (1955-59); and was owner-operator of Pine-Sylvania Tree Farm, Dilltown (1959-63).

There are 1,831 miles of state maintained highways in the two counties. Currently the district is in the midst of a $568 million highway improvement program authorized by the State Highway Commission. This includes a $22 million safety program, which is awaiting legislative financing.

Highway expenditures in the two counties during the past fiscal year totaled $55.3 million.

E For Effort

LEADVILLE, Colo. — A big tractor-trailer rig swerved into a vacant lot and turned over, injuring the driver and causing $7,000 damage to the rig. Later a state patrolman visited the driver, John S. Johnson, in the hospital and handed him an award as the state's safe driver of the month. Johnson has swerved his truck to avoid hitting some children after his brakes failed.

Hamilton Refuse And Electrical Workers Strike

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Two groups of municipal workers, refuse collectors and electrical employees, are on strike against the city.

About 40 garbage truck drivers resumed their strike Monday morning and 30 electrical workers, linemen only, walked off their jobs Monday night.

The linemen, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, had been working without a contract since Jan. 1. They are seeking a 10 per cent pay hike and a different life insurance plan.

The city has offered a 6 per cent wage increase to the linemen who guaranteed they will work during emergency conditions when the strike is in effect.

The garbage men went on strike recently in a dispute over reduction of trash collections but went back to work under a moratorium for negotiating sessions. The moratorium ended Sunday.

The name of "Old Glory" for the U.S. flag is attributed to William Driver, master of the brig Charles Daggett, who raised the flag on his ship Aug. 10, 1831, saying "I name thee Old Glory."

Day In Resurrection City

Southern Migrants Compare It To Cotton Fields

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — By noon the sun's rays beat down so fiercely upon "Resurrection City, U.S.A." that several migrants from the South compared it with summer in the cotton fields back home.

All morning children's bare feet and the shoes of hundreds of new arrivals scuffed up little clouds of yellow dust along the dirt trails that are the city's sidewalks.

Tourists strolling under shady maples and elms between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial stared curiously at the plywood huts. They housed one of the most varied communities many of the visitors would ever see.

There were heavy-set, older folks from the vitamin-short, starch and fat diet of the Deep South's poor. And there were lean, cockily confident Negro teen-agers from big-city slums, most hard at work building shelters.

Tight, sleeveless T-shirts worn by these youths identified them as:

"Milwaukee Youth Council Com m a n d o s." "Invaders, Memphis." The "Blackstone Rangers" and "Peacemakers" of Chicago's South and West sides, and a Philadelphia group whose lettering simply located their neighborhood, "25th and Diamond."

White volunteers sweated next to them, young men with blond mustaches and girls in shorts and sandals. And the young Negroes greeted black and white volunteers alike with clenched right fists raised, and the slogan, "Black power, brother!"

Putting the shelters together was a job for the young. Older persons lounged in whatever shade they could find.

"We're enjoying ourselves," said a Negro woman from Chicago who refused to give her name. "I never lived in a decent house in my life, and I've worked all my life."

One hut had its plastic door flaps closed. Sun pouring through the translucent plastic raised the temperature to a humid 100-degrees-plus inside, where Minnie Lee Hills of Marks, Miss., sat quietly folding clothes.

She vowed never to return to Mississippi. "I'm afraid to go back there to live," she said. "They might be mad at me for coming here."

Twenty dusty steps away, in the two-pole circus tent that can hold 500 people for meals or mass rallies, Lila Mae Brooks of Sunflower County, Miss., talked of people who have become discouraged.

"Some has said they were going back home, and after we talked to 'em they said they wasn't," Mrs. Brooks said. "I told them they was having three meals a day, which they wasn't getting in Mississippi. Some children get to go swimming and have toys."

The shower and laundry rooms that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference planned have not been finished, so Mrs. Hills and Mrs. Brooks, like the other 1,500 residents, use buckets or pails for bathing and laundry.

"We made out at home with a bucket or pan, so it ain't no trouble here," said Mrs. Brooks. "A few of us had commodes, but the waste runs right out there in the ditches. Since the summer mine has been running in the ditch right outside my door. At least we don't have no roaches and bugs up here, crawling all over the food."

A volunteer on a truck that comes in every day from the Seventh Day Adventist Church said her group has given out 13,000 pieces of donated clothing to date.

The Seventh Day Adventists also supplied the medical bus that treats about 30 routine cases a day.

Food has been plentiful at "Resurrection City," even though lines for it are long. Corned beef hash, greens, mashed potatoes, gravy, bread, canned peaches and milk, coffee or soda pop made up this day's dinner menu.

It is served by white volunteers recruited by the area's churches.

"I don't mind the mess," said a man as he stepped over pooled water on the kitchen tent's plywood floor. "We're together, that's what counts."

Alden Says 'Very Peaceful'

Ohio U. Campus Quiet With Guardsmen Nearby

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University's campus, with 650 National Guardsmen camped nearby, was quiet Monday night with virtually no trouble from students who wildly roamed over the campus the night before.

Dr. Vernon Alden, university president, toured the campus at 11 p. m. and said he found everything "was very peaceful."

The Sunday night trouble began after a strike threat by non-teaching employees fizzled out and killed student hopes for an early end to the school term.

The only campus incident of any sort Monday night, police said, occurred when some 250 students gathered in front of the Student Union about 10 p. m. Two firecrackers were thrown but the students quickly dispersed as police arrived.

The Guard was sent to Athens Monday evening as a precautionary measure, but did not leave the county fairgrounds. About 10 Guardsmen with rifles, however, walked patrol on the main street opposite the campus, mainly to relieve the weary local police.

Three students were arrested at an off-campus apartment house and charged with disorderly conduct.

Additional Ohio Highway Patrolmen also were on hand, but did not leave their quarters during the night. The Guard was sent here by Gov. James A. Rhodes at the request of university officials.

In a news conference, Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso, Guard commander, said he was prepared to prevent any trouble. He said the Guardsmen had ammunition. "Our troops are well trained. If they are fired upon, they will immediately return fire with well aimed individual shots," Del Corso said.

The extra security measures were taken after upwards of 1,500 students roamed the campus and downtown Sunday night, throwing stones and bricks. Numerous windows were smashed in two campus buildings and a bookstore, with the main target the home of Alden and his family.

Nine persons were injured Sunday, with one student, Pamela Jean Smith, 20, Rocky River, suffering the loss of an eye after she was hit, officials said. No arrests were made.

The two-hour demonstration erupted after nonteaching personnel had voted not to go on strike Monday as they had threatened. The university said a strike by the blue collar workers would have forced the school to close this Friday, two weeks earlier than the scheduled end of the spring term.

But the university Monday morning said the school would remain open, and Alden issued a special radio broadcast to the 16,500 students Monday night, warning that the university would not put up with "disruptive actions."

Alden said, "The administration of Ohio University has but one responsibility—to keep the university open so that the vast majority of students who have clearly demonstrated their genuine desire to proceed with their degree program may do so."

Group Names New Officers

Officers were elected when Hancock County Voiture 1459 of the 40 & 8 Society met Sunday night at Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163.

Named were Vito Catenaro of Weirton, chef de gare, succeeding Josiah Wedgewood of Chester; John Merriman of Chester, chef de train; Joseph Fuller of Newell, conductor; Dwight Allison of Chester, commissaire intendant; M. J. Sweeney of East Liverpool, corresponding secretary; Harry Hall of Chester, garde de laporte; the Rev. George Grafton of Wellsville, aumonier; Harry Huff of Chester, lampiste; W. Clay Allen of Weirton, commie voyageur.

Everett Maki of Weirton, advocat; Dr. J. M. Brand of Chester, medecin; Milton Fabianich of Weirton, historian, and Charles W. Morris of Chester, publiciste. Elected as cheminots were Josiah Wedgewood, 3 years, Fabianich, 2 years, and Fuller, one year.

Delegates elected to the convention in Clarksburg, W. Va., July 5-7 were Sweeney, Catenaro and Merriman. Alternates are Wedgewood, Allison and Fuller.

Installation will be held June 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Weirton American Legion Post 10, with Robert Lester of St. Albans, W. Va., grand chef de gare, in charge.

Wellsville Council Session Set Tonight

First reading of legislation to prohibit cutting through service station areas to avoid traffic lights will be one of the items facing Wellsville Council tonight at 7:30 in the chambers at City Hall.

Reports on a meeting with county commissioners relative to extension of city water lines to the Kountz Ave. area and a meeting with representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. concerning an increase in gas rates will be given by committee chairmen.

Liver Transplant Patient, 2, Gets Hospital Release

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Randall Wayne Bennett, 2, one of four known survivors of liver transplant operations, has been discharged from the University of Colorado Medical Center.

The curly haired son of Mrs. Sandra Bennett of Mesquite, Tex., is the first liver transplant patient to progress enough to be released.

The youngster underwent surgery Feb. 9, after doctors found he suffered from biliary atresia, the congenital malformation of bile ducts. The ailment often results in death by about the second birthday.

Randy and his mother are remaining in Denver, and he still makes regular trips to the center for checkups and treatments.

Another of the patients, Terry Jean Kent, 16, went home to Hillsboro, Ore., for the weekend, and returned to the hospital Monday. She had her transplant in March.

The other patients are Julie Cherie Rodriguez, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., and Eddie Miller, 44, of West Helena, Ark.

Julie received her new liver nearly 10 months ago, on July 23, 1967 while Miller is the most recent addition to the group. He had the operation April 14.

School Groups Push Nonpartisan Election

INDUSTRY — Members of the Industry and Ray Snyder Parent - Teacher Associations appealed anew today for support of House Bill 869 before the Pennsylvania legislature at Harrisburg calling for nonpartisan election of school directors.

Mrs. John Parsons and Mrs. Sam McKinney urged that letters be sent to the state representative backing the measure. The executive boards of both organizations already have forwarded petitions to State Sen. Ernest P. Kline.

Larry Bruno, a native of East Liverpool, will be an assistant coach in the Pennsylvania Big 33 football game at Hershey Aug. 10.

Bruno is the head coach at Beaver Falls High School. He is a graduate of Geneva College and has been coaching 21 years. He tutored Joe Namath when the present New York Jets star attended Beaver Falls.

Lindy Lauro of New Castle will be the head coach of the west squad in the game. New Castle was the WPIAL champ last fall.

HIGH SCHOOL football officials are worrying about competition from pro grid telecasts on Friday nights. The opening AFL game, Kansas City vs. Houston, will be Sept. 6, a Friday night, and will be televised nationally. Another Friday night game, Buffalo at Miami Oct. 13, may be televised regionally.

The National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations contends that high school attendance declines by 40 per cent in face of pro TV. It seems as though Friday ought to be left to the high schools, Saturday to the colleges and Sunday to the pros.

MIDDLETOWN'S John Fraley, basketball player of the year in Ohio, has decided to attend Cincinnati U. Fraley, 6-5, averaged 33 points a game last season.

PAUL BROWN, who heads the new Cincinnati Bengals franchise in the AFL, said that he was "dying by inches" by being out of football. "I had a life without purpose," he adds. Brown is 63 and had a sweet financial setup, but had to get back into the game.

OHIO U. has clinched the Mid-American Conference baseball title, as second-place Marshall was beaten. The Bobcats are led by Mike Murphy, who is leading the country in doubles with 11, is 11th in RBIs with 29 and is 13th in hitting at .429. Last year Murphy hit only .244.

THE PREAKNESS is the "run for the Black-Eyed Susans," the Maryland state flower. But this is not the time of year for the flower to bloom, so the winner's bouquet is actually made up of daisies with their centers painted black.

Medics Crush Chester In Little League Opener

The Medics opened Little League play last night by crushing the Chester Legion 14-0 at East Junior.

In other games Parsons Coal downed Burdicks 8-1 at Thompson Park and Vernon Dell blanked Veterans Legion 3-0 at Chester.

Dick Chema and Craig each had two hits to pace the Medics' attack. Sam Huff had two doubles for the losers. Wayne Hughes tossed a one-hitter for Parsons Coal, as Jeff Jones got the lone single. Don Samples led Parsons with a double and a single. Mike Mikita took the loss.

Jake Nicholson tossed a two-hitter for Vernon Dell, fanning seven. Bill Henderson, John Tice and Don Thompson each had two hits for the winners and Bruce Rohrer drove in two runs.

Calumet Wins Two At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Calumet Farm, whose Forward Pass won the Preakness by six lengths and the Kentucky Derby on the disqualification of Daner's Image, figured in two firsts at the opening of the new Belmont Park race track Monday.

The very first race run before the new $30.7 million stand went to Calumet's Ever On, a full brother to Forward Pass.

In the first race, Calumet's Hilario became the first horse to be disqualified at the new track, which had been closed since Oct. 27, 1962. Hilario finished second to Wise Road, but his number was taken down by the stewards for interference at the head of the stretch.

Perry Stone Sets 3 Marks

Overcoming a tremendous individual performance by Perry Stone of Carrollton, Wellsville won the Buckeye Border Conference track meet at Toronto last night.

Stone set meet records in the 100-, 220- and 440-yard dashes, and also took second in the long jump. He did :10.1 in a 100-yard trial and breezed to wins in the other dashes in :24.0 and :53.0 despite a very sloppy track.

Wellsville had too much depth for Carrollton, as did Beaver Local, which finished four points behind the Tigers of Paul Mikanic. Wellsville had 57½ points, Beaver Local 53½, Carrollton 47, Toronto 43½, Jefferson Union 36, Springfield 15½ and Southern Local 3.

Ken Kornbau in the two-mile, Mark Powell in the high hurdles and John Weeda in the shot put were individual winners for Wellsville, which also took the 880 relay. Jack Johnston took the broad jump for Beaver Local and the Beavers of Larry Knight also won the mile relay.

Summary:
100 — Perry Stone (C), Nuzum (BL), Ross (W), Hill (SL), Downard (BL) :10.2
220 — Stone (C), Bowersock (BL), Zak (S), Downard (BL), Hill (SL) :24.0

Tigers Keep Winning

Fregosi Hits For Cycle As Angels Down Red Sox

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
It isn't as if the Boston Red Sox didn't know any better; they can tell when a guy is on a hitting streak as well as anybody. It was just that they couldn't push the winning run across before Jim Fregosi got up to bat again.

Fregosi was murdering the Red Sox all night Monday — a homer in the first inning, a triple in the third, a double in the eighth — and when Rico Petrocelli's ninth-inning homer tied the score for Boston, the Sox desperately had to find a way to stop Fregosi.

In the bottom of the ninth, they came up with an acceptable method, giving him an intentional walk with two out and a man on second.

Neither team could score into the 11th and with two out and a runner at second again, the Sox took an awful chance. They pitched to Fregosi.

Moments later, the ball was bouncing off the left field wall. Fregosi had his cycle, the Angels had their 5-4 victory and the Red Sox had their lesson for the evening.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore edged Chicago 2-1 and New York beat Washington 6-1.

Fregosi scored three runs and drove in two as the Angels took a 3-0 lead that was shortened by solo homers from George Scott and Elston Howard. Petrocelli's shot came with two out in the ninth.

The Tigers took full advantage of four Minnesota errors, scoring three unearned runs. Two of those came in the 10th when Jackie Hernandez and Ron Clark, both put in the lineup late in the game for defensive purposes, made errors, letting the winning run score.

Jim Hardin stopped the White Sox on six hits and Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for the Orioles, who ended a three-game losing streak. Hardin pitched his way out of several jams.

Jim Bouton won his first start for the Yankees since 1966, scattering eight hits and fanning Washington slugger Frank Howard three times. Joe Peptide hit his first home run of the season for the Yanks.

Clete Boyer Sounds Off At Marichal

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "Why should he throw at me? I don't go up there and throw the bat at him."

So said the Atlanta Braves' Clete Boyer Monday night after being hit on the right wrist by a stinging fast ball hurled by Juan Marichal, of the San Francisco Giants.

Boyer suffered no permanent damage, and the Braves went on to win it 6-5 and claim sole title to second place in the National League. But the third baseman made it clear he was not happy about the incident.

Marichal had retired 14 straight Braves in the sixth inning before Joe Torre poked a home run over the left field fence to give the Braves a 4-2 lead.

Then Boyer stepped to the plate and, with an 0-1 count, was hit by the fast ball. He said Marichal's control was so good that it would not justify what happened.

"He can throw a ball in a tin cup," Boyer said. "He can break a curve off on the outside corner on a 3-0 count. Anybody with that kind of control isn't going to let a pitch get away from him unless he wants to."

Marichal, who was roundly booed by many of the 27,160 Braves fans at the game, said he wasn't trying to hit Boyer.

Boyer disagreed. And so did Torre.

"He threw at me in the eighth and after I flew out, I came back by the mound and told Marichal, 'I almost got it out,'" Torre said.

Eddie Stanky Still Stinky Despite Surge

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Success — or failure — won't spoil Eddie Stanky.

The Chicago White Sox manager made his first appearance of the 1968 season in Baltimore Monday night, and showed he hadn't lost his touch. He was as surly and sullen as usual.

After the Orioles edged Chicago 2-1, Stanky failed to take a postgame walk in the outfield — swinging a bat — as he did when the White Sox lost 10 straight to open the season.

But neither was Stanky overjoyed by Chicago's recent 10-4 streak which has projected the White Sox back into the American League chase, only three games below the 500 mark.

"Your club's been going good lately," a sports writer commented.

"Who said so?" Stanky snapped.

"All you have to do is read the papers to see that," was the reply.

"You don't believe what you read in the papers, do you?" A strained silence and then a question from another writer about Stanky's brief but volatile complaint registered with plate umpire Bill Kinnaman in the eighth while Chicago's Tommy Davis was at bat.

"What did you say to the umpire?"

"I told him what a great game he was umpiring."

More small talk only irritated Stanky.

"The winning clubhouse is over there," he snarled. "I have nothing to say, as usual."

Charles' 2 Homers Nip Pirates 2-1

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Last winter, the New York Mets wouldn't bet that 35-year-old legs could carry Ed Charles through another long season.

The Mets' senior citizen came up with a couple of convincing arguments in his own behalf Monday night — and those 35-year-old legs could have climbed a stairway to the stars.

"I just wanted to jump sky high," Charles said after leading off the ninth inning with his second home run of the game to give New York a 2-1 victory over the skidding Pittsburgh Pirates.

Charles, acquired from Kansas City last year, went to spring training with a minor league contract in his pocket. He had batted .233, with only three homers, in 101 games for the Mets and the club was committed to a youth movement.

"I wasn't even on the roster," said Charles, who regained a varsity spot a week before the season opened and has been sharing third base with Jerry Buchek. "I'm just happy I can help these guys. I'm out there to scuffle, to produce."

His fourth inning homer off Bob Veale, the Pirates' hard-luck southpaw, gave the Mets a 1-0 lead. Pittsburgh tied it in the fifth on a double by Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski's run-scoring single.

Veale and Mets' rookie Jerry Koosman carried the duel into the ninth, striking out 10 apiece.

Then Charles, who had also singled and walked, drilled a "hanging curve ball" over the right center field fence, carrying the Mets past the Pirates into eighth place and giving Koosman his sixth victory against two setbacks.

The Pirates have dropped four in a row and six of their last seven games while Veale, beaten three times by late homers, is 2-4 on the year.

"I was concentrating on one thing — getting on base," said Charles. "For the last few days

I've been meeting the ball good. I just wanted to meet it."

"But, when you see a hanging curve ... I hit it good but I thought it'd probably go up against the wall. I put my head down and took off. Then I started laughing ... When I saw it fly over the fence."

Charles' fifth homer and 14th RBI placed him second on the club in both departments while lifting his batting average to .244.

"I just had a good night," he said. "Let's face it; he's a good pitcher."

Alex Johnson's Double Gives Reds 3-2 Victory

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Alex Johnson, given another chance to prove himself, still doesn't feel comfortable at the plate. But he is making believers of National League pitchers, who also are feeling uneasy when he is hitting.

"I don't feel natural at the plate for the long ball," moaned the 25-year-old Cincinnati outfielder. "I'm just blooming there."

Despite his troubles, Johnson managed a run-scoring single and later a game-winning double in the ninth inning Monday night, giving the Reds a 3-2 uphill victory over the Houston Astros.

Johnson's three hits raised his batting average to .333 and gave him 15 runs batted in as a bona-fide regular for the first time in five major league tries.

Ed Charles, a 35-year-old veteran given another chance, clouted his second home run of the game in the ninth inning, lifting the New York Mets over Pittsburgh 2-1.

Larry Jaster continued what he does best — beat Los Angeles — by hurling St. Louis past the Dodgers 2-1 with a two-hitter. In the only other NL game, Felipe Alou singled in a ninth inning run, boosting Atlanta to a 6-5 triumph over San Francisco and into sole possession of second place.

Johnson, traded to St. Louis in the Bill White deal after failing to win a starting job in two seasons at Philadelphia, flopped in two seasons with the Cardinals before the Reds got him for Johnny Edwards last winter. He quickly won the left field position.

He singled in a run in the seventh inning against the Astros, but Jim Wynn's two-run triple in the third still left Cincinnati behind 2-1 entering the ninth.

After Mack Jones walked as a pinch hitter and moved to second on a sacrifice, Pete Rose singled in the tying run against loser Don Wilson and Johnson followed with his double off the left field wall against reliever Jim Ray.

Charles, a seven-year veteran still trying to win a job after signing with the Mets as a free agent this spring, led off the ninth with his fifth homer of the season as a part-time performer. The third baseman, second on the Mets in homers and runs batted in, homered with two out in the fourth off loser Bob Veale.

His clouts gave the victory to rookie Jerry Koosman, who pitched a five-hitter for his sixth triumph against two losses.

Jaster, who blanked the Dodgers five straight times in his rookie year in 1964, gave up a run without a hit in the first inning, and the only hits off him were singles by Paul Popovich in the fifth and Wes Parker in the ninth.

Bobby Tolan singled and scored on Orlando Cepeda's double in the first for St. Louis and Tolan won it in the eighth with a two-out single after Lou Brock doubled off loser Don Sutton.

Alou's hit came with the bases loaded and none out after the Giants had tied the score in the top of the ninth with three runs. Bob Tiltman, who singled in a run in the second and scored on a squeeze bunt and set up another run in the sixth with a hit, doubled to open the ninth and his pinch runner scored the winning run.

Potter Golf Team Whips Canton 9-0

The East Liverpool High School golf team ran its record to 15-12 by blanking Canton, Lincoln 9-0 at the East Liverpool Country Club yesterday.

Canton Lincoln, coached by former East Liverpool football coach Lou Vendetti, is 0-15. The stroke score was 171-201.

Rick Hughes was medalist with a 38, with John Stepien having a 39. Bob Kinsey had a 49 and Bill McHenry a 47. Mark DeMarzio led the losers with a 43 and Bill Slusher had a 46.

Grid Owner-Player Battle To Flame Again

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football owner-player battle will heat up again this week when the delegates of the National Football League Players' Association meet with a committee of owners, probably Thursday.

The owners spent considerable time on the problem at their meetings in Atlanta last week and have drawn up a master plan to present to the players.

The players are asking for $500 per man for pre-season games, an annual $5 million payment to the player pension fund and a $15,000 minimum salary.

With the teams due to report in about seven or eight weeks, both sides are running out of time. A compromise may be the solution.

Lou Saban is enthusiastic about Garrett Ford, the rookie running back from West Virginia who was Denver's third draft choice. He could wind up teaming with Floyd Little who is reported hale and hearty at 200 pounds and strengthening his damaged shoulder with weight lifting exercises. That proposed $50 million domed stadium in Buffalo would help the Bills as well as the baseball players who are hopeful of landing a National League franchise.

San Francisco reports guard John Thomas and flanker Kay McFarland, out with injuries in '67, will be ready to go in '68. Don Jonas, the Penn State product who threw 41 touchdown passes and scored 102 points for the Orlando Panthers, has signed a two-year contract with the same Continental League team. J.D. Smith will help Pappy Waldorf scout talent for the 49ers.

Baltimore and Washington will play a rookie game at the Colts' camp in Westminster, Md. the morning of July 14 but that won't be the first football game. The All American game at Atlanta, a clash between two college all-star teams, is set for June 28. Raymond Berry will coach the receivers for the Dallas Cowboys now that he has retired as an active player.

Seniors Qualifying For National Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
A couple of senior citizens from Kansas City, who qualified for the U.S. Open Golf championship long before Jack Nicklaus was born, are set to challenge the big Golden Bear in this year's National Open.

Chances are big Jack isn't too worried about the threat of Duke Gibson and Leonard Dodson — and they might not make it all the way to Rochester, N.Y. — but they're in there trying.

Gibson, 59, led the qualifiers on the par 70 Indian Hills course at Kansas City Monday with two rounds of 72. Dodson, 56, also made it with a 148. Gibson first qualified for the Open 34 years ago, Dodson 35 years ago. But they still must survive sectional qualifications June 3-4 before making it to Rochester's Oak Hills Country Club, where Nicklaus, 28, defends his Open title June 13-16.

About 2,500 golfers began competing for spots in the 150 man final field in regional qualifications Monday at 51 locations. The final regional qualifications were held today at Los Angeles, Palmto, Ga., Nashville, Tenn., New Jersey and in Westchester County, N.Y.

Survivors of the regionals move on to sectional tournaments for the final cut. The sectionals are scheduled June 3 at Denver, Colo. Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas and Seattle, Wash., and June 4 at Bakersfield, Calif., San Francisco, Washington, Indianapolis, Ind., Detroit, St. Louis, Montclair, N.J. and Pittsburg.

All qualifications are over 36 holes.

Nicklaus and several of the other top pros are exempt from all qualifying. These include the Open and PGA champions of the last five years, British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo, the 15 leading money winners of 1967 and the 15 low scorers in last year's Open.

In addition, a large group was exempt from local qualifying, but must compete in the sectional tests. These include 11 former Open, Amateur, British Open and PGA champions, the 30 low scorers in last year's PGA tournament, the latest Walker and Ryder Cup teams, and others.

Manfield, Ohio (AP) — Forty-two Ohio golfers, 17 of them amateurs, survived local qualifying play Monday and moved on to sectional qualifiers for the U.S. Open at Rochester, N.Y. June 13-16.

The qualifying play here and in Columbus and Cincinnati was in windy, chilly and sometimes rainy weather, and not one golfer in the 245 who teed off at the three courses was able to match par.

Frank Boynton of Cleveland, a veteran of five U.S. Open tournaments, had a hole in one on the 132-yard 17th at Mansfield Westbrook — the seventh ace of his career.

Boynton's 74-76-150 at Westbrook and Ashland Club was a stroke behind Frank Wharton of Akron and Charles Smith of Elyria, who each had 74-75-149, seven over par but best in the field of 108.

At Western Hills in Cincinnati, Mike Podolski of Troy was medalist in a field of 55 with 71-72-143, one over par. Jim Ferrell of Florence, Ky., had 74-71-145 for runner-up.

Rick Jones, collegiate champion, from Ohio State in 1956, shot 73-73-146 at the York Temple Country Club to lead the Columbus qualifiers. Jones was four over par.

The runner-up in that field of 82 was another Columbus amateur, Bob Hoag, who was one stroke back at 75-72-147.

Amateur Ludwig Shenk of Mansfield was fourth in the field here, with a 150. Other qualifiers included Dick Flocke of Mansfield, 154; Joe DiPietro, Canton, 154; Marion Heck, Columbiana, 155; Mike Dudley, Alliance, 156, and Don Nist of Massillon, 156.

Chuck Licher of Fairborn was third in the Cincinnati field with his 147 total. Dennis McTaggart of Wilmington was the top amateur finisher, with a 149.

Pro Ed Sneed, a former Ohio State golf star, was third in the Columbus field with a 148. Tom Cassidy of Groveport was next with a 149, tied with Joe Kotlarczyk of Fremont.

Larry Cochran attained a perfect score of 25 Saturday to win the 16-yard shoot of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association.

Other winners in the event were Jack Wilson and Paul Desher and Russ Wells, 23, of 25.

Scoring one victory each during the protector shoot were Gary Tolson and Jim Czech, Ray Thompson and Tolson, Tolson and Burlingame, Ron and Larry Cochran and Thompson and Alfred Cochran.

Sarver took top honors during the 10-target shoot with two wins. Other winners were Terry Zapata, Harold Rardin, Paul Desher, Bill Durbin, Jerry Reynolds and Russ Wells.

Alfred Cochran captured the garbage can shoot over 19 competitors.

A jackrabbit shoot will be held Saturday at 4 p.m. and the ATA registered shoots will be held Sunday, Saling, club president, reminded members.

BOB NEEDS

Bob Needs Will Attend Lafayette

Robert C. Needs a senior at Midland High School, has accepted an offer to continue his football career at Lafayette College, where he will enter the school of mathematics in September.

At Midland, Needs was a three-letter man, having earned varsity letters in football, basketball, and golf. This past football season he received MAC honorable mention as a defensive end. An active senior, he ranks in the upper fifth of his class and serves as a class officer, vice-president of the concert choir and sports editor of the yearbook. His name will appear in Young Leaders of America. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Needs of 1101 Beaver Avenue, Midland.

Net Singles Awarded To Longwood CC

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The Longwood Cricket Club, the oldest tennis bastion in the United States, finally has landed the National Singles Championships to go with the National Doubles it has run since 1917.

Longwood President Walter E. Elcock announced Monday that the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association had awarded the club the singles competition, to be held in conjunction with the doubles Aug. 16-25.

Elcock and Harrison Rowbottom, New England vice president of the USLTA, frankly admitted that Longwood's future as home for the singles will be dependent on how the first U.S. open tournament, for both amateurs and pros, draws in money terms at the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, N.Y.

"The West Side contract for the singles has four more years to run," Elcock said. "If the open stays at Forest Hills, the singles will remain at Longwood."

"If Forest Hills doesn't gross over $350,000 for the first open year, it will be given first refusal," Rowbottom said.

Forest Hills, longtime home of the singles, agreed to give up the 88th U.S. Singles Tournament in exchange for the open this year. Longwood was founded three years before the start of the National Singles and Doubles at Newport, R.I.

The Singles and Doubles Championships have not been played as part of the same tournament for 51 years.

Blake, 55, and Claude Provost, 34, were ordered by Municipal Court Judge Vaino Spencer to appear in Superior Court June 3.

Blake and Provost are accused of hitting Bernard Weisman, 39, of Northridge, Calif., last Nov. 19 during a game between the Canadiens and the Los Angeles Kings won by the Kings 4-2.

At a preliminary hearing, Weisman testified he had been arguing with Blake from his rinkside seat when Blake motioned him to come near the players' bench.

Weisman said he went to the bench and "the last thing I remember is being hit on top of the head with a hockey stick." He said he received a gash requiring more than 20 stitches.

Junior Editors Quiz on— DAYS OF WEEK

QUESTION: How did the days of the week get their names?

ANSWER: The days got their names because in ancient pagan times each day was sacred to some particular god or goddess. Sunday, first day of the week, meant "the day of the sun" for the old Teutonic peoples. To the Romans, Apollo was the god of the sun. Our picture shows him galloping across the heavens in his golden chariot. The Anglo-Saxon word "monandæg" meant goddess of the moon; from this, Monday got its name. Tuesday was Tyr's day, Tyr being the god of war in ancient Norway. Wednesday was sacred to Odin or Wodin, ruler over mythical Valhalla. His two ravens flew around the world every day and brought him the news. Odin's famous son, Thor, god of thunder and lightning, gave his name to Thor's day or Thursday. Frigg, Odin's wife, gave us Frigg's day or Friday; she was considered so wise she knew everything. Saturday, last day of the week, comes from the Roman god Saturn, god of the harvest. The Romans had a gay festival in honor of Saturn called a Saturnalia. It lasted seven days, beginning Dec. 17.

Janice Theresa Montgomery of Charleston, S. C., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review, is selected for a prize.

reached Paris after the first solo flight across the Atlantic. In 1942, during the Pacific war, thousands of Japanese troops landed at Foochow, China. In 1943, President Harry S. Truman sent Congress a special message proposing statehood for Alaska.

Ten years ago—30 persons were killed in a train derailment near Bombay, India.

Five years ago—Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace voiced defiance when he refused to order the University of Alabama to admit two Negroes.

One year ago—King Constantine of Greece announced the birth of a son, Paul.
